

PROJECTS PLAN TO SINK NAVIES

WIFE'S PLOT TO KILL REMUS IS BARED TO JURY

$15,000 Paid Gang Reporter Says.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Chicago, O., Nov. 30. (Special.)—George Remus' wife was in court today for the first time in her life, and she was told that she had been indicted for the murder of her husband.

It was told to the jury by John E. Rogers, St. Louis newspaper man who spent "weeks at a time" with Remus for a period of almost two years before he shot his wife down in St. Louis.

Remus almost went to pieces during Rogers' recital. For a moment he was almost uncontrollable. This came when Rogers said he told Remus that he had learned about a plot to kill Remus.

Plotted to Kill Remus.

"I told Remus that Mrs. Remus had put up $15,000 with gangsters in St. Louis to have him murdered while he was in the city," Rogers said.

Remus' chief justice, smiled at the testimony. So did Walter K. Sibbald and the other assistants sitting at the judge's table.

Remus saw them, his heavy jaw contracted, and he sprang from his chair. "This is quite humorous to the prosecutors," Remus shouted. Then followed this colloquy:

THE COURT—Just a minute—REBUS—I can't help it, your honor—I appeared here for the trial of myself.

THE COURT—Now, Mr. Remus—REBUS—They're laughing at me, your honor; those imbeciles are laughing.

Sheriff Rushes In.

Sheriff W. F. Anderson rushed into the courtroom at this point. Remus was still on his feet.

THE SHERIFF—Hold on now—THE COURT—I didn't see them, Mr. Remus.

Remus, breathing hard, glared at Taft; then he slowly sank down in his chair, the restraining arm of Attorney Charles H. Elston, his co-counsel, on his shoulders.

"I have been watching him, your honor," Remus said, indicating Taft. "There was a moment of confusion. Prosecutor Taft and several of his assistants started to say something, but now Remus was back on his feet. 'I'm sorry, your honor,' he said. 'I wish to apologize to this court and to the sheriff. I should not have said it.'"

Great Aid to Defense.

Rogers is a reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He was given the Pulitzer prize last year in connection with his reportorial work which led up to the impeachment of Federal Judge George W. English of the eastern district of Illinois. His testimony was of such a material value to the defense that Attorney Elston, as he left the court house tonight, was heard to say that he would be "willing to rest the case of the defense right now."

Foundation for Rogers' testimony was laid by that of John B. Marshall, former assistant U. S. attorney general, who prosecuted the Jack Dales liquor conspiracy in Indianapolis in 1925. Mr. Marshall told of having Remus with him as a government witness. His testimony was broken by constant objections on the part of the state and went in unconnected bits to the jury.

Official Tells of Plot.

But Marshall managed to establish these facts:

That St. Louis gunmen whom he recognized were in Indianapolis.

That Remus had recognized Chicago gunmen in the lobby of the Claypool hotel and pointed them out to Marshall.

That he, Marshall, had been told from Rogers—and this was the first Rogers had met Remus—of having Remus with him as a government witness, who paid $15,000 to be killed.

That he had told Remus of the plot, and that the latter, after the appearance of the St. Louis gunmen, told Marshall "believed there must be something to it."

The record of the trial shows that Mr. Marshall gave Remus no revolver, government property, while he was in Indianapolis, and that he did so because of the fact that Remus and the presence of the gunmen.

Rogers said he met Remus in St. Louis, 1925, when he was told that Remus was planning to open her home.

WHEN DISARMAMENT TRIES TO GO AHEAD OF SECURITY

Mrs. Ryerson, Widow of Sea Victim, to Wed

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Mrs. Emily Borie Ryerson, widow of the late Arthur Ryerson, who lost his life when the Titanic sank in 1912, is to be married next week in the chapel of St. James church, Cass and Huron streets, to Forsythe Sherfess, financial adviser to the Chinese government at Peking.

Mrs. Ryerson has long been a figure well known in the social life of Chicago, being distinguished as much for her journeyings, frequent and far, and for the character of her philanthropies, as for her wealth and social position. She is an indefatigable traveler and met her future husband in Peking while both were guests at the home of Mrs. William J. Calhoun, widow of the former American ambassador to China.

Ceremony to Be Private.

The ceremony at St. James' chapel will be private by the expressed wish of Mrs. Ryerson. Guests will be limited to relatives, and following the ceremony the bride and Mr. Sherfess will leave at once for the east.

They are to sail from New York on Dec. 13 aboard the Roma for Naples, and will be joined by Adolph Borie, Mrs. Ryerson's brother, for a journey through Persia.

Mrs. Ryerson has three children living: a son, John Borie Ryerson, who frequently has joined his mother on her trips to remote parts of the earth, and two daughters, Mrs. George Hyde Clarke and Mrs. Victor Salvatore, both of whom live in New York state. Mrs. Clarke lives at Cooperstown.

Saved in Titanic Disaster.

When they took passage on the ill-fated Titanic, Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson were hurrying home from Europe to attend the funeral of another son, who had been killed in an accident in Philadelphia. Mrs. Ryerson was saved with other women, but her husband was lost.

Her handsome residence at 2700 Lake View avenue has been opened on many occasions, and for various objects, but none more worth while than the summer when she turned it over to the Children's Memorial hospital as a convalescent home, and twenty small patients were cared for there.

During the war Mrs. Ryerson worked for three years at relief work in Chicago, then went to France, where she had been preceded by her daughter, Susette, and worked in the hospitals. Later she established an American hospital there.

At different times she has espoused the cause of the French, the Italian, and the Polish children, and has sponsored numerous benefits in Chicago to raise funds for her various charitable interests in these lands.

Her fame as a hostess in Chicago is equalled by her similar success wherever she happens to open her home.

Bullet Victim in Dress Suit Found in Auto

Otto Fass, 4223 North Leavitt street, who is 42 years old and is said to have been in the real estate business, was found critically wounded yesterday morning in his automobile, which had been driven off the road near Roselle, Ill. A revolver with one cartridge exploded was found beside him.

During a few conscious moments he told Chief of Police John Mertens that he had shot himself, but both Dr. J. F. Schroeder and Mrs. Fass were of the opinion some one else had shot him.

The wounded man was in evening dress when Earl Swason, 5333 Dakin street, who was driving by, noticed him slumped down in the driver's seat and stopped to see if aid was required. He called Chief Mertens and they took Fass to a hospital.

Says He Shot Self.

"Did you shoot yourself?" Chief Mertens asked.

"Yes, I did," Fass murmured.

"Why?" the policeman asked.

"For no particular reason," Fass replied.

Mrs. Fass, upon being notified, went to the Elmhurst hospital, where she told this story:

"My husband and I were going to the opera last night, but he had been drinking and after he dressed he fell asleep. I couldn't awaken him, so I left his ticket on the table and went alone, thinking he would join me later.

"When I returned home he had gone. This morning I made several telephone calls, seeking to locate him, but none of his friends had seen him last night.

No Reason for Suicide.

"He had absolutely no reason for desiring to commit suicide. We didn't quarrel and I know he didn't have any business troubles."

Mrs. Fass was emphatic in saying her husband was not engaged in the liquor traffic in any way. She said he dealt in real estate, but had no connections.

A check of real estate boards and associations showed that Fass was not listed. Several years ago he had been secretary of the Wholesale Grocers' association. His friends said he was well to do.

At the hospital last night it was said his recovery was doubtful.

GEM OF A MAID GONE: AND SO ARE $9,000 REAL GEMS

Mrs. Louise Meyers, 587 Hawthorne place, wife of Dr. Louis M. Meyers, a prominent north side physician, lost a jewel of a maid as well as several other jewels yesterday. The intrinsic value of the other jewels was $9,000, aside from a sashkin coat valued at $1,000.

Mrs. Meyers said she thought it too good to be true when Dorothy Keller, 20 years old, 304 Wilson avenue, proved to be a highly efficient domestic as well as being blonde, pretty, and a neat dresser. She called herself Dorothy Keller.

"What an enterprising girl she is," Mrs. Meyers was saying to herself yesterday afternoon when she heard sounds downstairs that indicated much work. Dorothy had been ironing and then the vacuum cleaner was heard as well as the radio.

Then there was the foot-trot of an automobile horn in front of the house and Dorothy was gone with the other gems.

300 FAMILIES MAROONED IN NEW YORK FLOOD

Elmira, N. Y., Dec. 1.—(U.P.)—Half of the city of Hornell was under four to five feet of water this morning in the most disastrous flood the city has ever known. In some places the water was at least 15 feet deep. At least 300 families were marooned on the second stories of their homes early this morning. Dikes gave way, letting the flood waters of the Canisteo river into the city.

LEAGUE PARLEY CALLS RUSSIAN OFFER UTOPIAN

REDS VISION WORLD WITHOUT ARMIES.

BY HENRY WALSH.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.)

GENEVA, Nov. 30.—Russia's proposal for total disarmament of the world was summarily rejected by the league of nations' preparatory disarmament commission today.

M. Paul-Boncour of France led the attack on the soviet plan for sinking navies, scrapping military airplanes, and disbanding armies, and Foreign Minister Edouard Benes of Czechoslovakia seconded him, pointing out that the Russian scheme for achieving disarmament by dissolution of military organizations already had been examined in 1922 and abandoned for the present complex scheme.

M. Politis of Greece, elected vice president of the conference, administered a coup de grace. He stressed the utter impossibility of adopting Moscow's plan, which does not provide for security pact.

Bernstorff Delays Discussion.

Count von Bernstorff of Germany, foreseeing the fate of M. Litvinoff's proposals, sought to save the situation by adjourning discussion of the Russian plan until the next disarmament conference, when the draft of the text adopted last March comes up for second reading.

Although it was pointed out that the next conference would again discuss the original Franco-British drafts, the Russian delegates announced their acceptance of the compromise.

The French and Greek delegates both resurrected the old demand that the league must have an international standing army and navy to preserve world peace and enforce its dictates if the members ever really reduce armaments materially. They also insisted on the necessity of international alliances guaranteeing security before any limitation of armaments can be adopted.

Russia Fires First Shot.

Clever Russian-German team play at the opening session enabled the Red delegation to submit a plan for immediate complete disarmament.

Maxim Litvinoff, Georges Chicherin's right hand man and undersecretary of foreign affairs in Moscow, proposed the disbanding of all armies, sinking navies, destroying military airplanes, razing forts, scrapping factories manufacturing chemicals for war purposes, like poison gas and deadly bacteria.

The chief of the Russian delegates fought vainly to persuade the commission, composed of representatives of twenty-three nations (Spain, Brazil, and Uruguay did not send delegates), to take his proposal seriously, discuss it, and go on record as favoring complete disarmament, but without avail.

The delegates of the little peoples did not dare to budge from their seats to support the soviet plan, and even the disarmed central powers' spokesmen refrained from allying themselves with the ultra-radical Russian scheme.

M. Paul-Boncour opened the meeting by proposing to elect a security committee.

Litvinoff Insists on Talking.

M. Litvinoff sprang to his feet immediately.

"I thought it was admitted that we could make a statement of our position concerning the phases of the disarmament discussed at former sessions of this conference," he said.

Count von Bernstorff, who was the former Kaiser's ambassador to Washington until the United States entered the war, then paved the way for M. Litvinoff's statement by insisting that the conference hear the representatives of the various powers on their governments' attitude on disarmament. He said this should be done before proceeding with the technical task of selecting a committee to devise a security formula which would permit reduction of armaments, thus tacitly admitting that disarmament plans had reached a deadlock.

Speeches Stunned Delegates.

Amid tense silence, the Moscow delegate read his proposal, providing for the dissolution of all land, sea and air forces and the nonexistence of their existences in any conventional form. M. Litvinoff's words fell like a bomb.

M. Litvinoff looked astounded when the British delegate, Lord Curzon, looked over his eyeglasses seemingly amazed at such a heresy as proposing that the British fleet be scrapped. M. Paul-Boncour pretended indifference. Count von Bernstorff seemed supremely happy.

...the committee, which is...
...at the whole affair.

Willing to Disarm in Year.

The soviet delegation is empowered to propose the fulfillment of its program of complete disarmament as soon as the convention becomes operative, so the measures for the destruction of the military stores will be completed within a year, M. Litvinoff said, and then took a mean nap at his colleagues.

In case the capitalist states reject the immediate abolition of the standing armies, the soviet government, desiring to facilitate an agreement, is prepared to make a proposal for complete disarmament to be carried out in gradual stages during a period of four years, with the first stage accomplished in the coming year. The national funds freed from the war budgets would be employed by each state for productive and cultural purposes.

We are willing to subscribe to a convention prohibiting the employment of chemical and bacteriological substances for military purposes, but to insure the practicability of such an agreement it is necessary to establish workers' control over the chemical industries susceptible to conversion for war purposes.

Calls Radical Action Necessary.

Count von Bernstorff's satisfied smile from his lips at these words, as Germany possesses the most highly developed chemical industry, daily able to manufacture poison gas and other means of destruction.

Our plan is Utopian, ultra-radical, and complicated, but the subject requires it, said M. Litvinoff. You have never yet seriously taken up disarmament. Its realization does not correspond with the political interests of the great powers nor the ambitions of the big industrial countries nor of profiteers. I have examined the schemes you have been working on and am terrified by their complexity.

The mixing in of the security problem, fixing the size of army and navy the states are entitled to maintain, according to geographic position and international obligations, prove the futility of attempting to deal with the question on these lines.

Unless the basis of the negotiations is changed the disarmament conference either will break down completely or continue to waste time during the decade to come. The danger of war is not a theoretic possibility but a real imminent danger. Therefore, we propose the following resolution—commence immediately to draft a detailed project of disarmament, based on the soviet proposals, and convene in March, 1925, at the latest, a general conference on disarmament.

Propaganda for Peace.
I realize that we will be accused of propaganda, M. Litvinoff said. It is true, we are here to disseminate propaganda for peace and disarmament. We are ready to accept the challenge and prove by deeds our readiness to disarm completely. If we cannot spread peace propaganda in the home of the league of nations, there is a mistake and we should not be here.

M. Litvinoff cited the Polish-Lithuanian crisis in support of his demand for disarmament.

War clouds hang thicker on the horizon than ever, he said. We urged Lithuania to end the state of war existing with Poland. My government's peace policy entitles us to announce that we will not let the opportunity pass to spread propaganda for peace.

Any other speakers? asked Dr. Louder, and when none took the floor the chairman started to steamroller the Russian plan, stating that the commission has a precise job from the assembly—to name a subcommittee to coordinate security with disarmament.

Assailed by French Delegate.
M. Litvinoff's plan is simple—in fact, too simple, said M. Paul-Boncour. The league has linked security to disarmament and subordinated reduction of armaments to international

London Press Laughs at Soviet Plan

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 1.—[Thursday, 230 a. m.]—London's reaction to Russia's disarmament proposals is one of amusement.

"Babbling for the Moon," "Scraps of the Moon," "Magnificent, but not Peace"—so run some of the headlines over editorials in the London papers this morning.

Litvinoff babbles for disarmament as babies for the moon, to misquote Tennyson. The Conservative Morning Post says, "If the preparatory disarmament commission is converted into a farcical advertisement for the soviet all those who truly desire peace will have cause to regret that Russia was ever invited to attend. The competition in armaments is far too serious a menace to be handed over to soviet buffoons as a bauble engagements. We cannot accept the soviet plan without abandoning our own, and we must not commit the error of changing the methods at this stage."

M. Paul-Boncour ridiculed M. Litvinoff's proposal for a dissolution of forces.

"Fleets at the bottom of the sea, airplanes scattered in the sky, soldiers sent home—that is not the league's conception of disarmament," he said. "There is no big or small nations here—all have a voice, all are equal. Total disarmament without security is impossible. There must be an international organization—a powerful force guaranteeing security, otherwise the most populous nations, with the biggest resources, will be able to impose their will on the weaker nations."

Called Rap at Germany.

This was a direct rap at Germany and its enormous industrial and manufacturing potentialities. M. Paul-Boncour merely retorted Leon Bourgeois' demands for a league army, rejected in 1919, when the league was formed.

"We have a policy established and the league members must assume responsibilities," continued M. Paul-Boncour, gazing at Lord Cushebon, since it is Great Britain who refuses to undertake further commitments guaranteeing the security of the continental powers. States vainly attacked must have a pledge from the other league members to aid them against the aggressor. How could we organize Europe's security when Russia is absent from the league?"

Calls Plan Impractical.
M. Benes, who has been the league's disarmament expert, was puffed because M. Litvinoff criticized the lack of progress.

"We must take a practical viewpoint," said M. Benes. "We cannot start a long debate on Russia's proposals, anyway. They are not new. Norway proposed practically the same thing in 1922, and we found it impractical. We decided it was necessary to link security and disarmament, and we are all agreed that we cannot adopt M. Litvinoff's method."

M. Politis of Greece said: "The method we have taken is the only one possibly successful. Complete disarmament would require us to have an international force to maintain order. I am sure M. Litvinoff now is convinced of the impracticability of his proposals."

What Are You Going to Do?

M. Lunarcharsky, the second soviet delegate, said:

"We protest energetically against rumors that we are trying to wreck the conference. If there is nothing new in our plan what are you going to do when you have reached an impasse? We want to know if our plan is rejected by the commission, and if so, will it be discussed at the next conference?"

After a discussion between Count von Bernstorff and Chairman Louder, it was decided that at the second reading of the draft of the disarmament plan, adopted at the last meeting, the soviet might move to have portions of their scheme examined.

Russia Dodges Security Board.
M. Litvinoff then announced that Russia would not participate on the subcommittee on security, because:

1. It was something which came up after they had accepted the invitation to come to Geneva;

2. It was purely a league matter, and Russia is not a member;

3. It involved treaties between certain powers in which the soviet was not interested nor sympathetic towards.

Hugh Wilson, American minister to Bernes, representing the United States, said America would not be represented on the security commission. Explaining the American attitude, Mr. Wilson said:

"The American attitude is simple, and consists of our intention to leave to the European states those matters peculiarly their own concern."

The league's private police and the Swiss authorities are taking the greatest care to protect the Russian delegates. Even journalists are required to have special cards, with special photographs taken by the league affixed to them.

Returning home from a golden wedding anniversary celebration, Albert Bauer, owner of a bakery at 225 West North avenue, early yesterday found that his shop had been robbed of $78 and five cases of pre-war brandy.

Bauer's Christmas output of fruit cakes will be seriously curtailed by the loss, he told police.

HOWARD FENTON, BANK PRESIDENT, IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Howard W. Fenton, president of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, obtained a divorce yesterday from Mrs. Ethel Beatrice Carpenter Fenton, well known in north shore society. Circuit Judge Denis J. Normey signed the decree, giving the grounds as desertion. A financial settlement between the Fentons was arranged some time ago, it was learned, but attorneys declined to make public the terms of the agreement.

Mrs. Alice F. Burrage of the McRaine hotel, a sister of the banker and the only witness besides himself, gave the only clue to the cause of the couple's estrangement. She testified that Mrs. Fenton had expressed to her a desire for "freedom and independence."

Mr. Fenton's testimony was a formal account of his marriage in 1901 and her leaving for Europe five years ago. They have two children, both grown. The banker is 36 years old and is a member of the following clubs: Bankers', Chicago, Union League, Mid-Day, The Altio. Shore-acres, Indian Hill, and Old Elm.

A MARITAL STORY FROM BLONDE TO BRUNETTE TO RED

Ex-Wives Meet as Sons Find Names the Same.

Two little boys, each with his mother in the crowd waiting yesterday to be heard by Superior Judge John J. Sullivan, started drawing pictures in the dust on the rear of a bench in the spectators' section. They had never seen each other before, but they were happy together in finding a means to while away the dull hours.

"What's your name, little man?" Mrs. Anna Dusak, 2718 South Sacramento avenue, asked the child, about 5 years old, visiting her 2 year old son.

"John Jacob Dusak," the lad said. It startled the young woman—for it was the name of her former husband.

Names Are Identical.

"What's your name?" the older boy asked of his new playmate.

"Jacob John Dusak."

They are half-brothers. Mrs. Marie Dusak Miller, 2306 South Cuyler avenue, Berwyn, mother of the older boy, overheard the conversation.

"So you're Mrs. Dusak's second wife? I'm his first." She introduced herself.

The women, strangers to each other a moment before, sat down together and made comparisons of their experiences with John Jacob Dusak, undertaker of 3007 South Union avenue.

Light, Dark, and Red.
"Don't you have a ring of mine?" asked Mrs. Miller, a blonde. "He took my ring before our divorce three years ago and said he was going to give it to a brunette."

"He gave me a ring shortly after we were married," Mrs. Dusak, a brunette, smiled. "But before our divorce last May he took it and said he was going to give it to a red head."

"Dusak versus Dusak! Step forward, please," the clerk called.

Both women went before the judge with their children and, after telling almost identical stories, each was granted a writ of attachment against their former husband for back alimony.

INJURIES FATAL TO WORKMAN.

A Hopeless Struggle against the odds of aching feet

Many men put up with aching feet, not realizing that the consequences of foot troubles are far more serious than the immediate pain. Inwardly they say—"Suppose my feet do hurt... what's the odds?... I can stand it."

The odds are—headaches, back-aches, nervousness, weariness... just to name a few of the ills that are commonly caused by foot troubles. Trying to enjoy life against such odds is a hopeless struggle—and a needless one—for the main causes of most foot troubles can be quickly removed by Ground Gripper Shoes. Neither shoes combine these three corrective features—the Straight Line Inner Edge, the Flexible Arch, and the Patented Rotor Heel. Be properly fitted in Ground Gripper Shoes and you won't need to put up with foot troubles.

REPORT SMALL WILL NAME PIKE PARK BOARD HEAD

Effort Is Seen to Heal
Breach with Mayor.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Reports were renewed yesterday that Gov. Len Small had decided to appoint Eugene R. Pike president of the Lincoln park board within a few days to succeed David H. Jackson. The fact that Mr. Pike was slated to succeed Mr. Jackson if he could be persuaded to accept the position was first reported in THE TRIBUNE on Oct. 12, when it was definitely decided that Jackson was to be relieved of his park duties because of his appointment to the chairmanship of the state commerce commission. Mr. Pike is a former president of the park board.

Morse May Join Board.

It was also reported yesterday that Gov. Robert H. Morse would be named to succeed Mrs. Irene Fosse Mantonya and that later several other political allies of Mayor Thompson would be appointed.

Friends of the governor last night viewed the prospect of these appointments with the hope that they might serve to heal the breach between the mayor and the governor. But friends of the mayor recall that in his recent statements to Small, Thompson insisted on a clearing out of Fred Lundin's friends from state appointments in Chicago. The mayor at that time particularly insisted on the removal of Dr. John Dill Robertson from the west park board.

Going It Alone.

Indications that the Thompson-Crowe-Brundage organization intends to stand pat and go it alone in Cook county was shown yesterday in reports that the leaders have decided not even to include any combination with the Deneen forces in the coming campaign. At a meeting of the Thompson-Crowe organization last Monday all talk of a partial Deneen alliance was dropped, and discussion was confined to ways and means of beating both the Deneen and the Small-Lundin groups, either singly or in combination.

Eliminate Peace Idea.

While there was no break with Deneen, since there has been no real bond between the T-C-B organization and the Deneen unit, all thought of peace suggested by George F. Harding was eliminated in the inner council. The conclusion of the committee of twelve was that even if the primary law is invalidated in court and control goes back to the county committee of 1904, the last one elected under a still valid primary law, as held by E. J. Brundage, former attorney general, the present combination will retain the management of a majority in the party's county machinery.

This is questioned in other quarters, and that there might be some doubt even in the T-C-B group was indicated by the fact that it now has requested Attorneys George F. Barrett, Louis J. Behan, and Thomas Marshall to cooperate in the preparation of a formal opinion on the question of what county committee, if any, will be brought back to life if the present primary statutes are killed.

The trouble in the Harding negotiations with the Deneen group, it was said, arose because he has not been empowered by his organization to offer any definite terms such as support for County Recorder Joseph F. Haas and Edward R. Linsinger, president of the board of review, both of whom are candidates for re-nomination.

Reports that Senator-elect Frank L. Smith had started for Washington were said to have been based on his departure from Chicago for his home at Dwight, Ill. He is expected to leave for the capital today.

Flyer Hops Off from Nome with Xmas Mail for States

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Noel Wein, piloting a Stinson-Detrollet plane, hopped off from Nome yesterday for Fairbanks with two passengers and Christmas-mail consigned to the states. The temperature was 22 below zero. Wein planned to stop over night at Ruby, 350 miles from here, and was due in Fairbanks tonight.

Guarding $2,000,000 in Cash Through Loop

Forty armed policemen last night convoyed express wagons in which were $2,000,000 in cash and $7,000,000 in securities from the old offices of the National Bank of Commerce in the Ashland block to the Chicago Trust company's vaults at Clark and Monroe streets. The picture shows the guard around a wagon being loaded at Clark and Randolph streets.

POPE PREVENTS WEDDING OF KING AND PRINCESS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

COBURG, Germany, Nov. 30.—The engagement plans of King Boris of Bulgaria and Princess Giovanna of Italy have been canceled definitely, the household here of former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, father of King Boris, learned today.

Pope Pius made the match impossible, it was said. Premier Mussolini of Italy favored such a marriage because he wanted to draw Bulgaria into Italy's Balkan orbit, but the pope refused to permit Princess Giovanna to be married with the rites of the Greek Orthodox church, to which King Boris belongs, or to permit any children which might be born of such a marriage being brought up in any faith but Roman Catholicism.

The Bulgarian constitution provides that the heir to the throne must be reared in the Greek Orthodox faith; consequently King Boris is back in Sofia explaining the failure of his effort to find a queen.

Patients Call on Doctor; Find Him Dead in Office

When two of his patients called last night upon Dr. Walter H. Meents, 3201 Franklin boulevard, they found him dead from a supposed heart attack. He was 45 years old and unmarried. John Buckley and Walter Resapael, both of 4526 Keystone avenue, the men finding his body, summoned a fire department squad, which failed to revive him with a pulmotor. Dr. Meents was a graduate of Rush Medical college and a member of the American Medical association, the Chicago Medical society, and the Illinois State Medical society.

Policeman Dies from Mysterious Shot Wounds

Patrolman Vincent Gillespie, member of Lieut. Charles Egan's vice squad, who stumbled into St. Luke's hospital early Tuesday morning with a bullet wound in his side, died shortly before midnight last night. He first told of being held up by two Negroes at 21st street and Wabash avenue. Lack of bullet holes in his overcoat or suit coat, however, indicated that he was shot while in his shirt sleeves.

DEMOCRAT LEADERS OF UTAH INDORSE AL SMITH AS CANDIDATE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 30.—[U.P.]—Leading Democrats of Utah, meeting here today, voted unanimously to endorse Gov. Al Smith of New York as the Democratic candidate for President in 1928. A preliminary campaign fund of $5,000 for organizational purposes was pledged and the national committeemen of the state were informed of the action taken.

FULLER OUTWITS HOWLING SACCO REDS OF PARIS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—He registered at a Paris hotel only as "Mr. Bond of Boston." Tonight the radicals are howling because "Mr. Bond" turned out to be Gov. A. T. Fuller of Massachusetts, who refused leniency for Sacco and Vanzetti, the executed radicals. By hiding his identity the governor was able to spend a pleasant two weeks in the capital.

The governor, accompanied by his mother and Dr. C. P. Sylvester, slipped out of Paris quietly this morning and boarded the Olympic at Cherbourg. The Reds are especially angry because Gov. Fuller visited the tomb of the unknown soldier just before taking the train this morning and deposited a wreath.

"LOST" 22 DAYS, EXPLORING PARTY ARRIVES IN CAMP

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 30.—[U.P.]—Members of the Bray-Pathe Grand canyon expedition, thought lost for 22 days, arrived at Camp Pearson on the Painted desert in Arizona late tonight, according to a radio message received by the United States signal post here. The message sent by the United States signal post at Camp Pearson, said the 13 members of the party were uninjured although they had had a trying experience since they left Green River, Utah, Nov. 9.

MOVE $10,000,000 THROUGH LOOP AS GUNS GUARD CARS

Waiting until after nightfall when traffic had lessened, heavily guarded armored cars last night hauled cash and securities estimated at $10,000,000 from the old quarters of the National Bank of Commerce in the Ashland block, opposite the Sherman hotel, to its new consolidated home in the Chicago Trust company at Clark and Monroe streets.

In addition to armed guards riding within the cars, mounted policemen and detective bureau squads patrolled the route between the two banks. Revolvers and machine guns were held in readiness to cope with a possible bandit attack.

Theater goers looked on with interest as the parade wound its way past the city hall and south on Clark street. Few, if any, however, knew of the immense sum so carefully protected.

KENTUCKY NEGRO IS LYNCHED BY VIRGINIA MOB

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

JENKINS, Ky., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Leonard Woods, 35 year old Negro slayer, was lynched on Virginia soil by a mob composed largely of Virginians, Harry L. Moore, county attorney of Letcher county, Ky., said here tonight after an investigation.

Woods was removed from the county jail at Whitesburg, Ky., shortly after midnight and taken to the Virginia-Kentucky line, where he was lynched for killing Hershel Deaton, 35, of Wise county, Va. Deaton was employed as a mine foreman at Fleming, Ky.

The mob was composed of about 400 men when it stormed the Whitesburg jail and broke in through the roof, Mr. Moore estimated.

After hanging the Negro the mob fired many shots into the body, cut it down, and burned the body.

Price of New Ford Cars, $385 to $570; Trucks, $460 to $610

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Prices of the new Ford car, given out here tonight show a range of from $385 to $570 for the various types of pleasure cars, and $460 to $610 for the various truck types.

The various types, and their prices, f. o. b. Detroit, follow:

PLEASURE CARS. Truck chassis with cab... $445
Four door sedan... $405
Coupe... $465
Sport coupe... $550
Phaeton... $385
Roadster with... $385
Roadster with... $385
pickup body... $385
Chassis... $325
Trucks. Truck chassis... $460
Truck chassis with cab and platform body... $585

The prices given out by the Ford Motor Car company represent an increase over the cost of the old model T machines with the exception of one type, the two door sedan. The f. o. b. price on this model is $495 in both cars.

The new motor car was demonstrated before newspapermen today in an elaborate obstacle test. Through blinding eddies of snow, and over rutty roads, rim deep in mud, the car was driven at 52 miles an hour, twirled about, brought to abrupt halts and taken around curves at a terrific pace.

At the conclusion of the demonstration, Edsel Ford, in charge of the ceremonies was besieged with questions regarding the secret of the leverage of the machine. It was explained as due to a combination of new elements which were previously announced.

The company hopes to reach a production of 1,000 cars a day by Jan.

Doctor Held When Woman Makes Deathbed Accusation

Dr. G. W. Billig, 2041 Byron street, was taken into custody yesterday following the death of Mrs. Louella Van Iderstein, 22, 1844 Cuyler avenue, at the Swedish Covenant hospital. The young woman is said to have accused Dr. Billig in a dying statement of having performed an illegal operation upon her on Nov. 23. He is being held for the coroner's inquest.

uary," Mr. Ford said. "We will continue to make parts for the old model T machine, and will produce cars of a smaller bore for the French and English trade to meet resistance of high horsepower tax in those countries. Plans for putting out the new car were conceived four years ago."

FRANCE EXTENDS OLIVE BRANCH TO STILL WAR CRIES

Invites Italy to Meet to Settle Differences.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Nov. 30.—France made a definite and unambiguous offer of the olive branch to Italy tonight.
Such is the construction which competent circles here place on the speech which Foreign Minister Aristide Briand made in the chamber of deputies during the debate on appropriations for the foreign service. He weighed carefully the chances for war and peace in Europe and took a slap at the Russians.

Not only to Italy, as a nation which the French have come to distrust heartily, but to Premier Mussolini, who is not the most charming figure in Europe in the eyes of the Gauls, did the foreign minister make advances. He suggested that he and Premier Mussolini meet and smoke the pipe of peace.

Believes Accord Is Possible.
"I spoke to him at Rome and Locrano, and I would meet him again with no displeasure whatever," M. Briand said, "and despite generally accepted fiction I am convinced that we could establish an accord between our two countries. Even to suggest that anything could set these two peoples against each other is ridiculous."

GLASS DECLINES TO DEBATE OVER RADIO ON 15TH AMENDMENT

THIS TRIBUNE a few days ago asked Senator Carter Glass of Virginia and Senator Borah of Idaho if they would participate in a radio debate on the propriety of the enforcement or non-enforcement of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution. This in view of the position of both senators in earnest advocacy of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. From Lynchburg, Va., yesterday THE TRIBUNE received the following reply from Senator Glass:

"Since the fifteenth amendment to the federal constitution is observed strictly by the United States and by every state thereof, and as I have said nothing to indicate that I am opposed to literal compliance with its terms, I see no reason why I should permit THE TRIBUNE arbitrarily to put me on the negative side of its proposition in a proposed debate with Senator Borah. Neither do I see the sense or propriety of proposing to 'enforce' an amendment to the federal constitution which is nowhere violated."

The astonished chamber applauded. It clapped again, more heartily, when the shaggy old statesman launched into a glowing description of Mussolini as one of the artisans of victory. Looking straight at the left benches, where the Fascist system is eyed with abhorrence, he said:

"Any country has the right to choose the government it wants and it is not up to us to criticize."

It is understood in official circles tonight that M. Briand feels he has gone as far as dignity will allow, and that the next move in this courtship is Sig. Mussolini's.

M. Briand protested again that the Franco-Jugo-Slav treaty, which aroused Italy's wrath, was nothing but a peaceful gesture. He recalled that the original plan for a sort of tripartite Locarno, of which this pact was to be the foundation, was launched by Italy.

Apparently with red hot advice from Geneva in his pocket, M. Briand turned from his earnest expose of France's sacrifices in the name of peace, and began to improvise none too sweetly on the Russian theme.

Declares Russia Increases Arms.

"France is willing to go still further in the direction of reducing armaments," he said. "But what handicaps is disarmament for nations in good faith? They would just as soon lay down their arms before the tribunal of peace, but what about others?"

"Note the great stress on military preparations in Russia. They parade endless armies on the least excuse over there—on occasions when more peaceful observances might seem more suitable."

From this, he said, there arises the necessity for certain others powers to look to their security. Only recently, the foreign minister pointed out, civilization had to defend its outposts in Syria and Morocco, adding that those who were talking so loudly of peace were not whispering peace into the ears of the Moroccans and Syrians but were doing their utmost then to stir up war.

"World Needs Force."

"There has to be force in the world to stop the first sign of smoke," he said, and added, while the deputies howled with laughter, "I am not so sure that Russia helped much to stop the so-called smoke of the Lithuanian-Polish affair."

While the foreign minister was harsh with the Russians, he was quite the contrary with the occidental powers. He had a good word for the English, which is rarely heard in the French chamber, and praised Germany unmeasuredly.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking it according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Puffing his upside down pipe and clutching the latest volume on the mystery of the lost Atlantis, his favorite reading, Vice President Charles Gates Dawes breezed into Washington late today to resume his duties as presiding officer of the senate.

A crowd of reporters was on hand particularly with the purpose of gleaming some hint of the official's present state of mind on the possibility of the Republican nomination for President coming his way. The vice president was not in a mood to be interviewed. There was no hint forthcoming. Gen. Dawes waved aside all such inquiries with his customary impatience over the matter. Like President Coolidge, Gen. Dawes cannot understand why people persist in asking him what he has to say. He does not see how he can possibly make any place in the public mind. He wants to be left alone to private life on his own terms.

Another Door Not Locked. That he has no interest in the nomination for President is an intense one. He hopes the nominee will be his old friend, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois.

It is to be noted, however, that for all his spurning of the crown Vice President Dawes, again like President Coolidge, has not up to date completely closed the door to acceptance of the nomination. The only one of the Republican presidential possibilities who has uttered those fateful words of finality is Charles Evans Hughes, and he is commonly believed now to regret his impulsiveness, for he burned that bridge behind him last spring when it seemed that the renomination of Mr. Coolidge was a foregone conclusion.

Dawes Growing as Candidate. The interest in the Vice President as a presidential possibility is growing daily as the conviction deepens that the contest for the Republican nomination will be narrowed eventually to Dawes and Hoover.

It is understood that the Vice President has not dropped his fight for rules reform in the senate by a long shot, and that he intends to press for action at this session on his proposal of majority cloture, at least on revenue and appropriation bills in the closing days of a congress.

A good many senators who originally scoffed at the Dawes plan of senate rules reform have been converted. This is partly due to the Vice President's pounding away at the high cost of filibustering, partly to the man's personality, and partly perhaps to his looming possibility as a White House occupant.

Personally Popular in Senate. The Dawes magnetism has already shown a good many tangible accom-

HOODLUMS HIDE AS POLICE HUNT FERRO SLAYERS

Bootleggers and racketeers were in seclusion yesterday as the police of Chicago, Cook county, and Du Page county were cooperating with government officials in investigating the murder of Carmen Ferro, wealthy manufacturer and leader of a band of moonshiners, and the tenth of a recent series of bombs.

Thirteen men were under arrest at Wheaton and were being questioned by Sheriff Hattendorf and State's Attorney Hadley of Du Page county about the Ferro murder. Robert and Tod Reynolds, whose card room at 3938 Sheridan road was bombed early yesterday, were in custody pending an inquiry into their operations and their relations with the gambling syndicates. Government officials were interested in both cases.

Round Up Is at Still.

Ferro's body was found near a large double still in a farmhouse near Bensenville. It was believed he had been killed elsewhere and the body brought there to attract attention to the still. Sheriff Hattendorf stationed several deputies at the farmhouse, with orders to arrest all who came there, and they had thirteen callers. The one whose capture seemed most important was Morris Mansfield, 1327 South Kedzie avenue, who drove to the farmhouse with his wife. His automobile was so arranged that many cases of liquor could be concealed and transported.

His connection with the still or the murder was not established, nor was there any real suspicion against him, but Sheriff Hattendorf said men connected with a well known Chicago cafe came there seeking to effect his release. He was later released under $1,000 bonds.

Lawyer Protests Death Theories.
Ferro's death brought a climax to a trial pending before United States Judge Adam Cliffe in which Ferro and six others were the defendants against charges of violating the prohibition law. The assertion was made by government prosecutors that Ferro had been slain either to prevent his confessing and aiding the government or to prevent the use against the others of the evidence which involved him principally. This brought a protest from Atto-ney William F. Waugh, counsel for the defendants.

"In view of the highly prejudicial and inflammatory statements attributed to the district attorney, I am absolutely convinced my clients could not expect a fair trial," Waugh told Judge Cliffe.

Hunt for Bomb Suspects.

Chief of Detectives William O'Connor and his men were making a drive to round up all suspects in the bombings but reported that known hoodlums were not to be found. The word has gone out, the policemen said, that Chicago has become an unhealthy city for racketeers.

The far reaching control of the booze lords over the lives of their henchmen was hinted at yesterday by an attorney defending Dominick Alongi, 569 West Taylor street, against a charge of violation of the prohibition law. Alongi was arrested several months ago when he was found in possession of a 75 gallon still at 2949 Prairie avenue.

After Alongi had denied any knowledge of the ownership of the still, Attorney Carroll Gligotti said to United States Judge James A. Wilkerson: "If my client answered the questions asked him regarding the ownership of the still he was operating, even if he knew, he would not live long enough to hear the verdict."

The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the charge of possession and the judge fined Alongi $250.

SHOTS SELF AT HIS HOME.

Edward W. Perrault, 50, of 4233 South Western avenue, shot himself in the head yesterday in the dining room of his home. His wife, Pearl, told the police he was worried over a debt.

11 MONTHS' AUTO DEATHS EXCEED TOTAL FOR 1926

County Toll This Year Is 898.

The total motor vehicle deaths in Cook county for the first eleven months of 1927 exceeded by one the total for the twelve months of 1926, it was announced last night by Coroner Oscar Wolff.

Since Jan. 1, 898 persons have been killed in automobile accidents, the official statistics show. For the same seven months of 1926, there were 811 fatalities. This represents an increase in the motor death rate of more than 10 per cent.

"Safer highway and street construction and an examination of all motorists before being permitted to use the streets," were the Coroner's suggestions to halt the growing toll.

90 Deaths in Month.

The month just ended was attended by 90 automobile deaths, which was 23 more than during November of last year. A table comparing the toll for 1927 with that of 1926 follows:

1927	1926	1927	1926
Jan. 62	65	August ... 88	90
Feb. 73	64	September 91	73
March ... 58	66	October ... 89	104
April 75	56	November 90	85
May 91	76	December ... 84
June 89	72
July 93	61	Totals ... 898	811

WARNS CITY TOO MUCH PROSPERITY MAY SPELL RUIN

Joseph R. Noel, president of the Noel State bank, warned members of the Chicago Association of Commerce in an address yesterday noon at the Hotel La Salle, that the "Chicago spirit" which has outlived fire, panic and war, is in danger of submergence in this era of prosperity.

The dynamic spirit of Chicago, he said, has been responsible for the promotion of the city to the heights of trade and commerce, and to spiritual, artistic and social heights, but too much prosperity may "lull that spirit to sleep."

To prevent the quenching of the spirit, Mr. Noel asked for the participation of men and women in the civic life of the city.

Adrian avenue, riding alone in the second machine, received a fractured skull and possible internal injuries. Wallace J. Scott, colored, 4841 St. Lawrence avenue, driver of the car in which Pamela was riding, also suffered a fractured skull.

In an accident at Keystone and Madison street, River Forest, John Oliver Moffett, 59 years old, 148 Desplaines street, Forest Park, received injuries that necessitated the amputation of one foot. He was struck by an automobile driven by Harold Moe, 179 Lawndale street, Elmhurst.

Wilmette Beauty Winner Divorces Maj. Owen's Son

Mrs. Madeleine Owen, 707 Linden avenue, Wilmette, winner of the suburb's beauty contest in 1925, won a divorce yesterday before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch from Lewis Maynard Owen, son of Maj. Percy Owen, former prohibition administrator for the Chicago district. She testified that private detectives led her to the Drexway Arms hotel, where she found her husband in a room with a woman. Mrs. Owen was awarded the custody of their child, Joan, 1 year old, and $15 a week for her support.

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to make. Saves about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is, pine has a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and hoarseness.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable gualacol, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

AND YOU'LL HEAR CHEER, GOOD FELLOWS TOLD

Letters Urge Help in a Moderate Way.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Good Fellow letters, which will be used as an appeal in the 1937 crusade to bring cheer into the lives of the poor children at Christmas time, were received yesterday at the Tribune's Good Fellow department at 1 South Dearborn street.

These letters request Good Fellows to give help, but not of an expensive nature, nor excessive in amount. Good Fellows are informed that when they read the homes of the poor children and that the children should be helped, there is no real need. The children are often most pitiful.

It is also urged in the letters to Good Fellows not to let signs of distress lead to antagonism, as the children are the helpless victims who are its victims.

Can Help; Now He Helps.

Three years ago Chicago Good Fellow brightened a threatened gloom and dreary Christmas for Walter and seven members of his family who lived in a basement flat on the south side.

Yesterday Walter enrolled in the Good Fellow army and wrote: "I wish to become a Good Fellow and tribute to those Good Fellows who brought Christmas cheer to me and members of my family fifteen years ago. No child's heart ever beat with more joy and pride than mine when the Good Fellows, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, presented me and my brothers and sisters with toys, and nuts, and candy."

"After that in my prayers I always remember them, and this year I, too, am able to be a Good Fellow and bring some cheer into some poor kid's life at Christmas time. Bringing joy to kids at Christmas is worthy of any person's attention and time."

Please for His Mother.

Then along comes little John of West 11th street, second floor rear, with an appeal for himself and mother. He says his mother is a widow and that the breadwinner of the family has been sent to the house of correction. He expresses a fear there'll be no Christmas at his house unless his appeal is heard by some Good Fellow.

Women employees of L. Thomas & Co., 3411 Ravenswood avenue, yesterday said they will do their bit this year for the poor little folks of the city. Similar pledges were made by

HILLMAN'S BUYS STOP AND SHOP; GROCERIES UNITE

New Owners to Complete
Loop Skyscraper.

BY AL CHASE.

Chapter three in the Hillman department store biography for this year was written yesterday when the latest news came out that the old time State street emporium bought out the Boul Mich "Stop and Shop" grocery concern by purchasing the capital stock of the Tebbetta & Garland company from A. Younker, its president. Mr. Younker and his family are going to make a tour of Spain and Italy.

A. YOUNKER
(Tebbetts & Garland)

On, owners of Hillman's which, with the exception of the grocery department, is now being sold out, will go ahead with the skyscraper "Stop and Shop" building now under construction at 16 to 30 West Washington street.

Space to Be Divided.

In this new building, however, instead of all of the first few floors being devoted to the Stop and Shop groceries, the space will be divided between the Hillman grocery store and that of the Stop and Shop. For the motor trade there'll be a section devoted to Stop and Shop customers. The remainder of the first floor, all of the basement, and all of the second floor will be given over to the Hillman grocery store.

Chapter one in the Hillman story told some time ago how Woolworth had secured a ninety-nine year lease on the Hillman store property, and this was followed by an announcement that the Hillman store would sell out to the public.

Plans Are Changed.

Chapter two told of the assignment of the lease by Woolworth to the Washington interests, who intend erecting a fourteen-story building and enlarging their store. It was then understood that Hillman's would occupy the basement.

It is now being learned that Hillman's cannot occupy the basement and on Jan. 1 must vacate. A temporary store must be found somewhere in the loop till the new Stop and Shop building is completed, which will be next October.

Dies After Shooting Self on Eve of His Wedding

Clyde Robinson, 31, son of a wealthy farmer living near Wilmington, Ill., died last night at the County hospital from the effects of a self-inflicted bullet wound Nov. 23 on the eve of his wedding. The shooting occurred in a loop hotel when he barricaded himself in the bathroom and emptied all but one shot at officers who questioned him on a bad check charge.

to obtain from the bootlegger a story of his whiskey running career. He said he traveled about with Remus to get this, going from Cincinnati to Washington and from there to Pittsburgh and numerous other cities, including Chicago, with Remus.

He said in opening his testimony that Remus had "brainstorm" on "innumerable occasions." He told the jury that Remus often, holding his hands above his head, exclaimed in utter despair:

"My God! My God! How long is this going to go on?"

Remus at such times would be raving of his wife he said he had lost forever to Dodge, or of their treatment of him together.

Rogers told the jury of several of the instances when he was with Remus when he became "uncontrollable."

His testimony was graphic and in detail. Rogers signed Remus' outbursts. He said the man would wring his hands, shriek at the top of his voice, pace about like mad. He said it would take "two good times" to restrain Remus at such times, if he became obsessed with the idea of injuring Dodge. He told of one such instance at the Mayflower hotel in Washington, in November, 1935.

"We registered at about 12:45 in the morning," he said, "Remus was last to put his name on the book, and as he did so he suddenly exclaimed, 'My God.' I asked him what was the matter and he said, 'Could it be possible these people are at this hotel?'"

"I asked him who, and he said Mrs. Remus and Dodge. He said he had seen their names on the register."

"We took him to a room, and immediately he had another brainstorm. He fought us all over the place. Once he got away and he was just alone at the door of the suite in which he thought they were before George Conners, and I caught him. He wanted to break the door down. We got him quieted, but it didn't last long. He kept dragging us about the room, shouting and shrieking and all the while exclaiming that Mrs. Remus and Dodge must be in that room."

Once, the witness said, Remus almost ran into Dodge in the lobby of the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis during the Jack Daniels case. Remus started for Dodge. It took a dozen to hold him and get him back to his room. Dodge ran into the dining room and got away.

Such instances were typical. Rogers told of a number of them. Rogers said he came to Cincinnati about three months before the murder. He called up Remus, who asked him to go along to the Alms hotel to see Mrs. Remus and have dinner there. He went with Remus and he said Mrs. Remus took Remus by the coat and said, "O, daddy, I'm so glad to see you."

"Remus took her hand gently from his coat and put her gently away from him," Rogers said. "They discussed a number of documents. Once Remus left the room, and then Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Remus' mother, asked me whether I couldn't use my influence to have George drop the charges he had made against his wife."

In Bad Company.

"I told her I didn't think I had that much influence with Remus. Mrs. Remus came and sat down beside me. She asked me whether I couldn't do something to help the lawyers make settlement of their affairs. I told her I didn't think I could so long as Franklin L. Dodge was around. I told her I thought she was in bad company."

"I'm afraid somebody is going to get hurt," I told Mrs. Remus. She said, "O, I'm sure daddy wouldn't hurt me, but I'm afraid he might do something to Mr. Dodge."

On cross-examination Rogers was asked why he didn't go under restraint to have Remus put under restraint if he considered him insane. He replied: "I did not feel I was called upon to do it. I wasn't close enough to George to take any action to get him incarcerated. He had already spent too much time in prison."

AIR MAIL PILOT DIES IN WRECK ON FIRST TRIP

On his first trip as an air mail pilot Edward Axberg was killed early yesterday when his plane crashed near Kendallville, Ind. He was forced down during a storm and his body was found crushed under a mass of wreckage.

Investigation of the wreckage caused aviation officials to believe that Axberg lost control and that the plane went into a nose dive.

It was the first fatality in the National Air Transport service since May, 1935, according to officials. In that time pilots have flown 1,500,000 miles.

"It Will Satisfy the Most Critical!"

PRETTY Betty Winkler, beauty specialist of New York, is glad to tell other women what she thinks of Black and White Face Powder.

"This delightful face powder," says Miss Winkler, "has certain desirable qualities which I have been unable to find in others generally. It has that soft, velvety feeling and lasting adherence which women of charm invariably demand. A trial will satisfy the most critical that Black and White Face Powder is the ideal face powder for them."

This dainty, flower-fragrant face powder is made of the finest materials and bottled many times through silk to give it a soft, even texture. It comes in just the right tints to enhance the natural coloring of your skin.

Black and White Beauty Creations are of a quality acceptable to those who seek the best, at prices within the reach of all—25c and 50c.

The New Ford Car will sell at a SURPRISINGLY LOW PRICE

Complete details of the new car which will be officially announced this FRIDAY

THE MINUTE you see the pictures of the new Ford car you will be delighted with its low, smart lines and the artistic color combinations. There, you will say, is a truly modern car.

But a still greater thrill awaits you when you slip into the roomy seat behind the wheel and start away for your first ride. Then you will know that you have found the most unusual value ever offered in a low-price car.

You will like the feeling of speed and power that the new Ford gives you—the comfortable, prideful feeling that comes from having a car worthy of any occasion and equal to every emergency.

You will like the flexibility and safety of the new Ford car as you weave in and out of city traffic—its flashing pick-up as the light turns green and the sign says "Go." You will like its smooth, quiet steadiness on the open road where you can lazy along according to your mood, or do 55 and even 65 miles an hour if you desire. The new Ford has unusual speed—no doubt of that!

A smart, low, speedy car that has been built to endure

The new Ford will climb hills that you never thought a low-price car would climb on high. It will pass cars that you never thought you could pass. The longest trips will seem easy, for here is a car that puts new joy in motoring.

There is still another reason why the new Ford car is the most outstanding value ever offered in a low-price car. An important three-word reason that means a great deal to you—endurance—durability—long life.

The new Ford car is made to stand up under thousands upon thousands of miles of steady running over all kinds of roads. It has even more stamina than the Model T Ford because we have learned to make every part stronger and sturdier without increased weight or greatly increased cost.

Many of the Model T Ford cars are still in active service after 75,000, 100,000 and 150,000 miles. This new Ford car will do even better. In the words of Henry Ford: "It is our ambition to have every piece of machinery or non-consumable product that we turn out so strong and so well-made that no one ought ever to have to buy a second one."

Four-wheel brakes and standard, selective gear shift

On the right we are printing, for the first time, the complete details of the new Ford car. Read them over carefully, especially the paragraphs dealing with the new engine, the new bodies, the new standard, selective gear shift transmission with roller bearings, the new four-wheel brakes, the new hydraulic shock absorbers, the new mechanical design ignition, the new oiling system, and the new dry-plate, multiple-disc clutch.

Then decide that whatever else you do Friday you are going to set aside at least fifteen minutes to get the full story of the new Ford car. It is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

FEATURES OF THE NEW FORD CAR

55 TO 65 MILES AN HOUR

The new Ford has unusual speed. It will do 55 to 60 miles an hour with ease. This is a conservative statement. In many road tests it has exceeded 65 miles an hour. So well does the new car hold the road that you can travel at high speed for long stretches with a new feeling of comfort and safety. Even bad roads may be taken at a fast pace. You will be delighted too with the way the new Ford climbs the hills. You will face the steepest grades with confidence, knowing you have power and power to spare to climb them all without greatly reduced speed, without strain, or unnecessary shifting of gears.

40-HORSE-POWER ENGINE

At 2200 revolutions per minute, the new Ford four-cylinder engine develops 40 horse-power. This r. p. m., or revolution speed, is low for such power and shows that the engine is unusually efficient. It also means long life, for the lower the speed of the engine, the less the wear on its parts. The bore is 3 1/4 inches and the stroke 4 1/4 inches. (S. A. E. and N. A. C. C. rating for license purposes, 24.03 horse-power.)

REMARKABLE ACCELERATION

The new Ford is remarkably quick on the get-away. In tests in high gear, with a Tudor sedan body and two passengers, it has accelerated from 5 to 25 miles per hour in 8 1/2 seconds. This acceleration is an outstanding feature of the new Ford car.

PREVENTING VIBRATION

The engine in the new Ford is practically vibrationless. This is due in part to its lower r. p. m., the statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft, and the aluminum pistons. To insure quiet, the timing gears are made of bakelized fabric instead of metal, and the cams on the camshaft are so designed that the valve push rods follow them closely, preventing valve clacking.

GASOLINE ECONOMY

You will get from 20 to 30 miles per gallon of gasoline, depending on the speed at which you drive. Feed to the carburetor is by gravity from a unique welded one-piece steel tank integral with the cowl.

UNIQUE NEW OILING SYSTEM

The oiling system is distinctly Ford in design, being a combination of pump, splash, and gravity feed. The pump delivers the oil to the valve chamber, from which it flows by gravity feed to the main bearings of the crankshaft. An oil dipper is provided on each connecting rod bearing cap, so that the force of rotation of the crankshaft drives oil into the connecting rod bearings, as well as splashing oil over all working parts within the engine. This is a simple but entirely dependable system, assuring proper lubrication of each bearing and each cylinder without pressure.

PERFECTED COOLING

The new Ford car has a centrifugal water pump, and large radiator. The fan runs on the pump shaft and is made according to airplane propeller design. It is exceedingly difficult to make the new Ford engine overheat; only abuse will do it, such as running without enough oil.

IGNITION SYSTEM OF NEW DESIGN

The ignition system of the new Ford is unique in mechanical design, extremely simple, and will give the car owner exceptional performance with a minimum of trouble. There is only one coil, in a water-proof case. The distributor is located on top of the engine where it is clean and easily accessible. Connections are made to the spark-plugs by short bronze springs. The coincidental lock on the new Ford is placed in the ignition circuit. It not only replaces the regular ignition switch, but in the "off" position grounds the entire circuit. From the switch to the distributor a steel cable protects the primary current wire, this wire being grounded to the distributor casing, thereby making it impossible to wire around the device. The new generator is of the power-house type.

STANDARD, SELECTIVE GEAR SHIFT

The new Ford transmission is of the selective sliding gear type, with standard shift. It has three speeds forward and one reverse. The main shaft runs on ball bearings, the countershaft on roller bearings, and the reverse idler on a bronze bearing. This is the highest type of bearing mounting and is unusual on light cars. All gears are made of heat-treated chrome alloy steel. You will be delighted with the easy, noiseless shifting of gears in this new transmission. You can go from one to another easily, silently, with the pressure of a finger.

EXCEPTIONALLY EASY TO STEER

The steering gear on the new Ford car is irreversible. Shocks are not transmitted back to the hands of the driver. You need not grip the wheel tightly. A light touch is enough to guide the car safely. Large steering wheel is made of steel, covered with hard rubber. Light switch and horn button are conveniently located on top of wheel.

NEW FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES

The brakes on the new Ford car are an exclusive Ford development. They are of the mechanical, internal expanding-shoe type and are self-centering. This is the most reliable and the simplest type of four-wheel brake and the easiest to adjust. All adjustments are made from the outside without removing any parts. No special tools are needed. Uniform, correct adjustment on each wheel is quickly and easily obtained. The brake pedal and the hand lever each operate all four brakes. Total braking surface is 168 square inches. All brake working parts are cadmium plated to make them rust-proof.

MULTIPLE DRY-DISC CLUTCH

The clutch in the new Ford is of the multiple dry-disc type, which is the most reliable. It is also the easiest to operate, for it takes hold gently and smoothly. It has four driving discs and five driven discs.

COMFORTABLE TRANSVERSE SPRINGS

The springs are of the transverse, semi-elliptic type, designed and built for the new Ford. This type, which was used in the Model T, was adapted to the new car because no better spring type could be found. They are built of the finest spring steel, and the leaves are wide and thin. Each spring is built up of varying sizes and number of leaves to give proper flexibility and to meet riding requirements of the different body types. The size and number of leaves used in these springs is one of the reasons why the new Ford is such a comfortable car. The construction of the transverse springs also contributes to the safety and efficiency of the 4-wheel brakes.

HYDRAULIC SHOCK ABSORBERS

The finest type hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment on the new Ford. These combine with the low center of gravity, the minimum unsprung weight, and the easy riding qualities of the transverse springs to make the new Ford one of the most comfortable cars on the road today.

THREE-QUARTERS-FLOATING REAR AXLE

The rear axle of the new Ford is of the three-quarters-floating type. The axle housings are made entirely of steel, built up by welding steel forgings to steel tubing. The differential housing, to which these housings are bolted, is made of rolled channel steel. The axle shafts carry none of the weight of the car, the wheels running on roller bearings on the housing. All bearings in the rear axle are of the roller type. Drive is by spiral bevel gear.

FORD-DESIGNED STEEL-SPOKE WHEELS

Original design and great strength are two features that mark the unique, Ford-designed steel-spoke wheels. Each wheel is assembled by welding, and becomes one piece of metal. Spokes cannot work loose. Each spoke has a tensile strength of 4000 pounds. Outside spokes do not cross, so that the wheels are easy to clean. There are only 30 spokes in each wheel.

BEAUTIFUL NEW LOW BODY LINES

There is a bit of the European touch in the coachwork and contour of the new Ford. Bodies are steel. Fenders are of the full crown type. Appointments and hardware are of a luxurious type seldom found in a low-price car. Upholstery is of rich, durable material. Cushions are deep and easy. Door handles and window lifts are fully nickel-plated. Speedometer, gasoline gauge, ammeter and ignition lock are mounted on an instrument panel of satin-finish nickel, illuminated by a lamp in center. Headlamps and radiator shell are fully nickel-plated. Closed cars have the new military-type sun visor and crown roof. Great care has been taken in designing the new Ford to provide generous seat space and ample leg-room. Clear, unobstructed vision is assured at front by unusually narrow pillars and at sides by specially designed doors with large windows.

CHOICE OF FOUR COLORS

The color combinations used on the new Ford are especially artistic and attractive. Four color choices are offered for each body type—a most unusual feature in a low-price car. Purchasers may choose any one of the following colors: Niagara Blue, Arabian Sand, Dawn Gray, and Gun Metal Blue. Belt and reveals are finished in contrasting colors, with attractive striping. The finish is pyroxylin lacquer, one of the finest and most enduring finishes for automobile bodies. It is not affected by heat or cold, withstands all kinds of weather conditions, and is not easily marred or scratched. The lustre actually improves with washing.

A QUIET CAR

In designing the new Ford, every precaution was taken to prevent squeaks, rattles and drumming sounds. Body panels and frame sections are welded and riveted together wherever there is possibility of the body weaving. In all structural details the new Ford bodies are built to afford the utmost quietness and comfort.

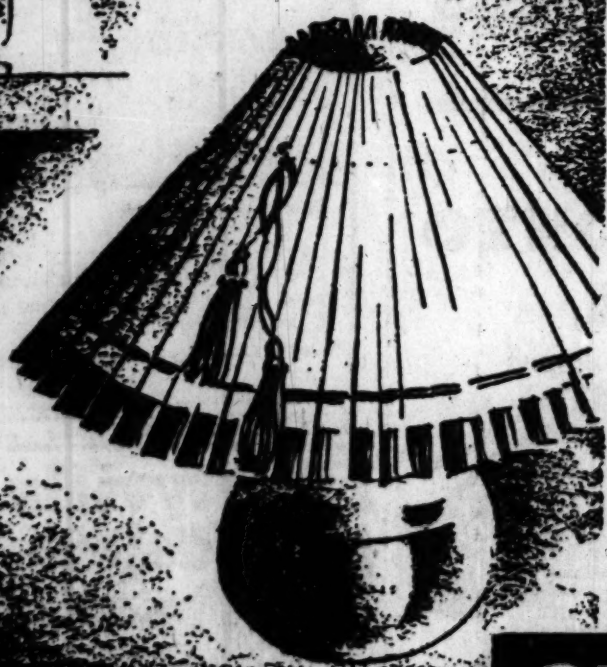

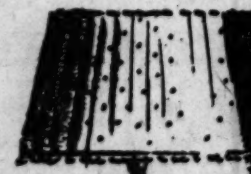

GREASE GUN LUBRICATION

The chassis of the new Ford is lubricated by the pressure grease gun system, the simplest and most effective method of lubrication.

I. W. W. BAR WAY TO MINE PEACE IN COLORADO FIELDS

State Determined Not to Recognize Reds.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Denver, Col., Nov. 30.—[Special.]—The Colorado coal strike has reached a costly deadlock. While operators admit privately that the miners should be paid more money and conditions remedied yet they can find no way to do this without recognizing the Industrial Workers of the World, leaders of the strike. There is a common voice, in the state offices and among the employers, against this. So whatever happens, the I. W. W. win. If the miners get an eventual increase in wages they can take the credit. If they do not, Colorado remains a fertile field for their agitators and organizers, and the sense of injustice increases.

No way out of this situation has been found, although Gov. W. H. Adams continues to talk of appointing an impartial commission to investigate the causes of the strike and suggest a permanent remedy. The state industrial commission continues impotent, as the miners on strike refuse to deal with it.

Mines Are Being Worked.
In the meantime, coal is being mined, more and more every day, under guard of soldiers and gunmen. From this point of view, the strike has already been won by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and several other big operators. Plans are being made today to send the state troops to guard 25 more mines in the northern field, so that they can begin operations.

It looked for a few days as though the strike would end by piecemeal settlements, particularly in the north, but this has been dissipated by the refusal of the strike committee of the north to reach any settlement that does not include the southern field. The I. W. W. appears to have implanted their "solidarity" idea pretty well. They remain as a permanent, if unpleasant, factor in the industrial life of the state because of the policy that has led to this strike.

Operators Hire Own Army.
The southern field is dominated by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. The state has not furnished soldiers down there, except 20 state police, so the operators have been forced to hire their own army, and it is a mean and effective army. They have thrown up barbed wire fences, charged with high voltage, around the operating mines, and have the gates guarded.

At the opening of one of the mines is a little building where the guards live, called "Fort Paxton," and around this fort stand armed men who stop every car and every man that approaches the gates. Entrance is only by company passes.

Ruse Fails to Work.
There is a postoffice on the property. The strikers mailed letters to themselves and then tried to go and

FISHER INTERCEDES IN EVICTION OF COAL MINERS AND FAMILIES

New Kensington, Pa., Nov. 30.—(AP)—

Gov. John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania, through his secretary, today telegraphed the Inland Collieries company to defer evicting more than eighty families of striking miners from company owned houses at Indiana, until the miners can obtain other shelter.

The telegram came after a delegation of striking miners' wives and New Kensington businessmen men had telegraphed the governor, asking him to use his good offices in halting the evictions.

The strikers had occupied the houses since the suspension of work in bituminous coal mines, April 1, last. They withstood eviction by appeal to the Superior court. The court, however, ruled they were not entitled to retain the houses, and the Inland company, wishing to house nonunion men in the area, asked that the strikers vacate.

Leaders of the United Mine Workers maintained they could not erect barracks in time to shelter the families, but the coal company contended they had sufficient time to do so since the evictions were appealed. The company, however, offered to give the union two weeks to vacate half the houses and a further two weeks for the remainder of the remainder. That offer, the company said, was refused.

collect them. They were stopped with threats that they would be killed if they advanced through the gate. Back of the gate is an immense searchlight that plays around the scene at night. Mounted riders roam the outskirts of the property. Trenches and little forts, built of sandbags, have been thrown up in several positions commanding the entrance.

The miners are working under this protection in several places and production has reached about 80 per cent of normal, according to company figures.

ures. The attitude of the company is that there is no strike, that a handful of agitators make this situation and if the soldiers could be sent down they would have a complete working force. Such mines as are on the common road, where the strikers can march along singing "Solidarity," are closed. There is something about this song that calls the men out like sheep.

I. W. W. Feeds Strikers.

In the meantime, in the town below the mines there are hundreds of idle strikers, fed by soup kitchens maintained by the I. W. W., and their courage sustained by the daily meetings addressed by the I. W. W. leaders. T. C. Miller of Chicago headquarters, has charge of the relief fund administration.

"The C. F. and I. will not be able to break us," Miller said. "Funds are coming from all over the United States."

The general manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company says that the Moscow soviet government sent $50,000 to the strikers. The state police officers are watching the incoming funds. One of the largest checks ever sent to a Walsenburg bank was for the strikers. The relief plan is $3 a week for married men, $2 for their wives, and 50 cents for each child. The unmarried men are fed at the soup kitchen in Walsenburg and Trinidad.

Fight Over Check Weighman.

A typical example of the differences between the employers and the miners is shown in these conflicting statements:

The miners: "We are being cheated every day by the company in the weighing of coal. The state law says the miners are entitled to their own checker, but our checkers are not allowed at the scale. The average miner loses $1.20 a day this way."

The employer: "The miners don't want a check weighman. They have to pay the check weighman themselves, so they dropped the idea."

Some of the relief and propaganda work of the strikers is being done by the Rev. A. A. Helst of Denver. He is secretary of the social service commission of the Methodist Episcopal church of the district. This commission believes that the miners can choose the I. W. W. or any other organization as their agents, and its members protest against what they term "the abridgment of fundamental civil liberties" in this strike.

"We believe," the commission states, "that in the present situation the interests of justice and peace demand that if the recreated state rangers be used at all they be used for the impartial enforcement of all laws, viz., the defense of freedom of speech and assembly, the enforcement of the statute requiring check weighmen at every mine, the suppression of the intimidation of miners, whether by superintendents or hired gunmen or by eviction from homes, as well as the suppression of intimidation by pickets and the guarantee of full civil liberties to the humblest miner, as well as to men of high financial standing."

Stand Pat Against I. W. W.

"We endorse the proposal of the Denver trades and labor assembly to raise a committee of 100 or more citizens to arrange for a fair and impartial hearing before the state industrial commission; and for an unimpaired vote by all miners to determine what individual or organization shall represent them in negotiation."

But resolutions accomplished little. The Colorado Fuel and Iron company will never recognize the I. W. W. or the striking miners who are aligned with that organization.

The state police, quartered at Walsenburg, have stopped picketing. It is easy to appreciate why labor is always against state police. In this situation, for instance, if there was only the county officers to deal with, in a county controlled by miner vote, it might be a different story. All mining could be stopped by picketing; but there is a state law against it.

The average miner in the district, according to one young miner at strike headquarters, makes less than $300 a year. The answer to this is that the Mexican miner can live on $1.50 a week. It is all very far from labor's Utopia in these camps, although in the new camps of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company the miners' homes are neat and modern, and they have clubrooms, hospital care, and other advantages.

SIGN EUROPEAN CHEMICAL PACT, AIMING AT U. S.

(Copyright: 1927, by The New York Times.)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The Franco-German dyestuffs agreement—the chief part of the chemical entente between those two nations—was signed Monday afternoon at Frankfurt by the principals. The Franco-German chemical accord is the basis of a billion-dollar European chemical trust now forming.

The chemical interests of the two nations for several weeks have been operating jointly. Plans are already drawn for the distribution of markets, prices, and other vital aspects of trade.

See Advantage Over U. S.
Later the two countries will discuss a scheme for a unit sales organization which will operate in the markets of the world, especially in South America and the far east, where the United States chemical industry has gained such a desirable footing since the war.

The members of the entente feel that lower production costs and unit distribution and sales organization, which, among other things, means one line of ships where two served before, will give the Franco-German entente a considerable advantage over American firms. Germany is still 50 per cent behind its pre-war chemical trade and France seeks a place in the world markets to take care of its rapidly expanding industry.

Hooked Up With British.
Although the Franco-British agreement has not yet been signed, a private understanding is believed to link up the German dyestuff manufacturers

SARGENT REFUSES TO GRANT PAROLE TO GASTON B. MEANS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—

Attorney General Sargent today declined to approve a parole for Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, who is serving a term in the Atlanta prison for conspiracy to bribe government officials.

At the department of justice it was announced that the recommendation of the parole board that Means be released from prison had been turned down by the attorney general because Means had not paid fines totaling $20,000. It was said that he could not take a pauper's oath until his term, with allowance for good behavior, had been completed.

Means came into the limelight after several previous sensational exploits as a star witness against Harry M. Daugherty when his administration of the department of justice was under investigation by a senate committee several years ago. He was recommended for parole last month.

Means came into the limelight after several previous sensational exploits as a star witness against Harry M. Daugherty when his administration of the department of justice was under investigation by a senate committee several years ago. He was recommended for parole last month.

Sir Alfred Mond continues to work hard on the problem of bringing all British chemical companies into a central committee. About fifty per cent of the British chemical industry has been brought into line.

Observers assume the accord signed Monday will take the same course as did the steel trust, namely, stabilization of prices, followed by their slow but steady rise.

STATE SURPRISE WITNESSES BALK IN MURDER TRIAL

Refuse Positive Identification of Defendant.

May's Landing, N. J., Nov. 30.—[Special.]—The man relied on by the prosecution in the trial of Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl and Willis Beach for the murder of the woman's husband to identify Beach positively as the man he saw near the scene of the crime at the time of the murder failed to do so today.

This witness, Harry F. Sanderson, an aluminum ware salesman of Sidney, O., insisted that all he could say was that Beach "looked like" the man he had seen running from the woods near the lane in which Dr. William Lillendahl was killed.

His statement came as a surprise to the prosecution, which had just met with a disappointment in the preceding witness, William Driver, a Trenton contractor, who likewise had failed to identify Beach positively as the man he had seen near the scene of the killing.

Taken aback by this apparent breakdown of one of the strongest links in the chain of evidence it has been trying to build to convict the doctor's widow and her reputed admirer of first degree murder, the prosecution asserted that Sanderson had previously been positive in his identification.

Trials Are Exposed.

At the close of the day the prosecution made known that it was considering legal action against Sanderson and two other minor witnesses who had surprised it by failing to tell the stories expected of them.

Sanderson was deposed by Supreme Court Justice Luther A. Campbell, the trial judge, not to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

While Mrs. Lillendahl and Beach indicated by happy smiles their satisfaction at the failure of Sanderson to make a positive identification, they were silent and tense later in the afternoon. This was when the prosecution elicited testimony that the relations between them before the murder had been improper. They sat with downcast eyes when a neighbor from South Vineland testified that he had come upon them at night in the woods.

They appeared interested, but not particularly happy, when other neighbors testified about trips along unfrequented roads, meetings at the South Vineland postoffice, through which, the state contends, they carried on a clandestine correspondence, and about Beach being ordered from Dr. Lillendahl's home after a quarrel with the 69 year old physician and attorney.

Sought to Keep Car.

Beach particularly showed interest in the testimony of two men connected with the company from which he bought an automobile. They said that a day or two before the murder they had gone to collect a payment on the car and to sell it if the money were

RUMOR OF $50,000,000 AUTOMOBILE MERGER INTRIGUES DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 30.—[Special.]—The rumor, that today gained wide circulation, and caused considerable interest in automotive and financial circles, of a merger of several automobile concerns, cannot be verified.

Semi-official announcement linked the names of Continental Motors of Detroit, Peerless and Jordan companies, and the Hupp Motor company of Detroit, which would result in a $50,000,000 combine. It was also hinted that behind it all was the hand of W. C. Durant, it being his first step toward a plan of consolidation of various motor car companies on which it is believed he has been working for some time. It was pointed out that Continental manufactures the motor for the Star Automobile company, the largest of the Durant concerns.

E. W. Johnson, president of the Continental Motors corporation, today denied his company was involved in a merger.

not forthcoming. They said that when Beach was informed of this, he asked them to let him keep the car as he had an important engagement in Hammon, which is near where the murder was committed, and that if they would let him keep it he would have the money for them shortly.

Twenty-two witnesses took the stand in the course of the day's proceedings which went along in the same rapid fire manner that characterized the first two days of the trial. The testimony included that of a chemist, who, like his associate who testified yesterday, said that three $5 notes found in the widow's pocket book in the rear of the car in which the doctor was killed, contained blood stains.

The state hopes to show by the testimony of these men that Mrs. Lillendahl took the money from her husband after he had been killed and put it in her pocketbook to simulate the robbery she said was committed by Negro holdup men whom she accused of killing the doctor.

HEART ATTACK CLAIMS DRUGGIST.

Millon Johnson, 47, a druggist at 6200 West Chicago avenue, died suddenly yesterday in a drug store at 3601 North Narragansett avenue. Heart disease is supposed to have caused death.

BUNDESEN OUT; KEGEL IS MADE HEALTH CHIEF

Mayor's Move a Surprise, but Council Approves.

tion of the Chicago flood control conference and presented a review of health conditions in the flooded areas before Congressman Reid's committee in Washington D. C.

In taking the position of Dr. Bundesen, Dr. Kegel will step into what is regarded as not only one of the largest but one of the best managed health departments in the world.

During the Bundesen regime, it was pointed out, the powers of the health commissioner have been materially curtailed by the transfer of several important health department activities to other departments. Tuberculosis control was placed under the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium board, water analysis under the department of public works, and plumbing inspection under the building department. The latest transfer was that of the smoke abatement bureau to the boiler inspection department.

Bundesen Appointed in 1922.

The outgoing health chief is 45 years old. Six years ago he was a consulting physician in the health department and was named commissioner in April, 1922, to succeed Dr. John Dill Robertson, now president of the west park board. He was reappointed by former Mayor Dever in 1923, serving throughout the Dever administration and, since last April, under the new Thompson regime.

He was recently elected president of the American Public Health association.

It is known that Dr. Bundesen has recently had at least two attractive prospects for another executive office, one as head of the General Memorial institute, a national anti-mosquito organization, and another as health director of a Chicago newspaper. He explained last night that he had not had time to consider which one, if either, he will take, but indicated that he will not return to private practice.

Dr. Kegel, in an interview, complimented his predecessor on his success and made it clear that he will make no immediate changes in the Bundesen policies.

"For the present my purpose will be to keep the health department up to its present high standards," he said. "There will be no immediate changes in personnel, although if the mayor wishes to have any of his friends placed in the department I shall try to cooperate. Thus far, however, he has offered no advice as to what I should do, and I take it that he is going to give me free rein to do as I like."

Discussing the various phases of the department's activities, the new commissioner said that he considered most important the cultivation of an esprit de corps among the physicians of the city.

"The doctors are the real guardians of Chicago's health, and I hope to make the department an asset to them," he asserted. "I expect to call on them often, perhaps establishing a physicians' advisory council. I certainly will try to get the best talent among them as my assistants."

To Take Up Housing Problem.

Special emphasis, Dr. Kegel said, will be placed on a solution of the housing problem, prevention of children's diseases by educational health work in the schools, and the continued reduction of infant mortality, especially in the colored district. Asked his attitude on the smoke evil, he declared that it should be eliminated as quickly as possible.

"However, I am not in favor of putting every smoke violator in jail but rather of teaching him how to fire his furnace smokelessly," Dr. Kegel said.

Dr. Kegel added that he will "back up to the limit" the ordinance obtained by Dr. Bundesen requiring that all cattle producing milk sold in Chicago be tuberculin tested.

In taking his new office Dr. Kegel will give up not only his private practice but his connection with three local hospitals, the John B. Murphy, Illinois Masonic, and West Suburban, which he served as a visiting surgeon.

Dr. Kegel is a member of the American and Illinois Medical societies, Roosevelt lodge, 1022, A. F. & A. M., the Chicago Yacht club, Lake Shore Athletic club, and the Ridgemoor Country club.

TRIBUNE DIVIDES FUND RAISED TO AID BOMB VICTIM

Distribution was made yesterday of the fund raised by The Tribune readers to pay for the damage to the home of Louis Newman, 1533 South St. Louis avenue, by a bomb he believed was intended as a warning to him not to testify at the trial of Harry J. "Lefty" Lewis. The sum raised was $1,010.50.

At Newman's suggestion the major portion of the fund was given to Mrs. Lottie Braverman, 1547 South St. Louis avenue, widow of the man whose death was attributed to his refusal to join a branch of the teamsters' union.

Braverman and Newman were junk dealers and with a dozen of their associates they defied Lewis. The bomb followed the murder but Newman declared himself unafraid and asserted he would testify against Lewis if he were killed for doing so.

Newman said his own personal loss was small—$100 would cover it. Jacob Komencky, who lives in the same building, had bills of $240 as a result of the bomb. The division of the fund was made therefore, as follows: To Mrs. Braverman, $670.50; to Komencky, $240; to Newman $100.

KIDNAPED, ROBBED OF COAT, CASE.

Remarking that it would be a cold walk home, four armed men last night robbed Paul M. French, 1032 East 46th street, an employe in the government warehouse at Pershing road and Wood street, of his overcoat, $80, and a watch, after kidnaping him on Ellis avenue near 46th street and driving him about the south side.

STEPHENSON ILL; ATTORNEYS SEEK 90 DAYS PAROLE

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—[Special.]—Simultaneously with the statement by Robert Moore, Michigan City attorney, that D. C. Stephenson is ill in the state prison there, it was announced here today by Lloyd Hill, associated with Moore as Stephenson counsel, that a ninety day parole will be sought immediately for the former klan dragon and political czar, now serving a life sentence for murder of an Indianapolis young woman.

The parole will be asked from the board of trustees of the prison, which last summer refused Stephenson a parole. It was regarded as significant here that the parole move and illness report came at the same time.

Stephenson also has been refused a writ of habeas corpus by the State Supreme court but his appeal on the second degree murder charge of which he was found guilty in 1925, has not yet been decided by the Supreme court.

No Poison Found in

Body of Dr. Julius Miller

Chemical analysis of the vital organs of Dr. Julius Miller, a dentist, whose body was exhumed Tuesday by Coroner Oscar Wolff upon request of the doctor's father, Max Miller, showed no signs of poison, according to a report yesterday by Dr. William D. McNally, coroner's chemist. Death was due to pneumonia.

Washable—Inside and Out

SHUGLOV is the new thing in footwear protection. There is nothing else like it—nothing with similar advantages. Shuglov is fashioned of strong, featherweight rubber. It is form-fitting—worn with any style of shoe, even the most fragile. It is washable, inside and out. A moment's wiping brings back the newness and lustre. It snaps on or off in a jiffy. No pulling. No tugging.

Shuglov has none of the bulk and weight of old methods. Utmost protection is assured without them.

And, most important, Shuglov comes to you in four harmonizing colors, Nude, Gray, Black and Brown, with two types of heels. The Universal is for military, military high and spiked heel. The Cuban is for the lower and flatter heels. The trim decorative top is worn up or down with equal smartness.

You will want Shuglov, no doubt, immediately. All smart shops are showing them. Women who dictate the vogue are wearing them. They tell us candidly—it is the first time they have ever found footwear protection they are glad to wear.

AMERICAN GIRLS BEGGED TO HAVE IT BROUGHT HERE

The dark-eyed Senoras and Senoritas of the leisure classes in South America are famed for the loveliness and allure of their skins.

To safeguard and enhance their treasured beauty, for three generations they have used a treasured soap—a soap so soothing, so softening, so lovelifying, that its luxurious lather is like magic, almost, to the skin.

Girls and women from this country who have been guests in homes of wealth in that Southern Hemisphere, have begged to have that soap brought here.

It is Raquel Beauty Soap.

Women here have never known anything like it. It is truly a luxury soap. Yet the retail price is only 35 cents the cake—or a box of three long-lasting cakes for only a dollar.

How to be popular the day after Christmas

Year after year, the after-Christmas popularity contests are won by people who come to Spalding's to buy gifts for men and boys.

That's because Spalding specializes on gifts that are dear to masculine hearts—the things a man buys when he is giving himself a present! Come in and see what Christmas offers in a real man's shop!

For boys, a genuine "Babe Ruth" Fielder's Glove—$3.50. Other gloves and mitts from $1 to $15. And baseballs themselves, from the Official National League Baseball at $2.00 to a knockabout at $1.25.

Try these on your Christmas list! Light, comfortable "pull-on" sweaters and golf stockings in the most approved colors. Many are our own importations from the finest Scotch mills. Sweaters—$7.50, $10 and up. Stockings $2.50 to $7.50.

Boxing gloves and striking bags wouldn't occur to you—but they're coveted articles in boydom. The striking bags run from $3 to $14. Boxing gloves from $5 to $18, for a set of four.

The hole-in-one of golfing gifts—golf clubs, in the famous Spalding Matchless Registered Set! At the right, the Kro-Flite Driver and Bransie—$30 for the two. At the left, a set of nine Kro-Flite Irons. $75. A set of six is $50.

Particularly timely—ice equipment. Blue Strak Skates and Shoes attached—both made by Spalding—at $11 for men and boys; $12 for girls and women. Skates alone, from $2 to $15. Hockey sticks $1.50.

Like cream to a hungry kitten is this gift to any golfer. A dozen Spalding Balls—the ball played by the winner of the National Open and British Open. Specially wrapped for Christmas. Packed in an etched brass box that makes an attractive cigarette container afterwards. $12.

OPEN ARGUMENTS FOR THOMPSON, HARDING IN SUIT

Conspiracy in Paying Experts Denied.

Arguments for the defense of Mayor Thompson and George F. Harding in this Tribune's suit to recover $1,732,000 for the city treasury from fees paid real estate experts in 1920 and 1921 were started yesterday before Circuit Judge Hugo Friend by Attorney George Lennon.

The lawyer, contending that his clients are not liable unless the evidence proves they were in a conspiracy to defraud the taxpayers, stated at the opening of his address that he would concentrate his arguments on an effort to show that no conspiracy existed insofar as Mayor Thompson and his former city controller, Mr. Harding, were concerned.

Presumption of Actions.

Also at the opening of his argument Mr. Lennon insisted that the failure of his clients to take the stand in their own defense does not warrant an adverse inference. He continued by asserting that it is the presumption, under the law, that public officers act rightly.

"If any circumstances are as consistent with a lawful purpose as with an unlawful one," he said, "your honor must give effect to the interpretation which finds the lawful purpose." Mr. Lennon declared that this Tribune has failed to prove its charge that moneys were diverted from the city treasury into the campaign funds of the old Thompson-Landon machine.

Cost of Campaigns.

"In our system of government campaigns are necessary," he said. "They cost money; there is no doubt of that. The man who is at the head of the party necessarily must face this situation. But there is no evidence that Mayor Thompson personally received a dollar of this money. And no evidence that any substantial amount was ever paid in for political activities."

As for Mr. Harding, named defendant because he indorsed the fee vouchers, allegedly exorbitant, Mr. Lennon said:

"He had a right to accept the vouchers with the O. K. of a responsible head of a coordinating branch of the city government (Michael F. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, and co-defendant in the suit)."

INDIANS DEMAND "SQUARE DEAL" IN HISTORIES HERE

Labeling as "pale face propaganda," the historical accounts of redskin scalping parties, a delegation of Indians yesterday drew up a resolution asking Mayor Thompson to revise public school history text books and give the Indians a square deal. The resolution will be presented to the mayor today at 12:30 in the Hotel Sherman by a group of Indians in war paint and feathers.

The resolution declares that the Indians learned to scalp from white settlers, who demanded proof that their enemies had been killed. The paragonous Pilgrims, the letter says further, paid bounties on scalps only if both ears were attached.

School histories wrongly emphasize Custer's last fight, the Indians maintain, and they do not mention the battle of Wounded Knee, in which many Indian men, women, and children were massacred by the soldiers. Custer, they insist, fired the first shot in the Dakota hostilities.

MUZZEY HISTORY BEARS BRUNT OF McANDREW TRIAL

N. Y. Writer Claims Book Favors British.

With Supt. William McAndrew absent and none of his adherents venturing to interrupt the proceedings, the insubordination trial of the suspended superintendent yesterday again relapsed into a monologue by the chief witness for the prosecution, Charles Grant Miller, newspaper writer, imported from New York for the occasion.

A gallery crowded with spectators, hopeful of another clash between opposing factions similar to the blowup a week ago when Supt. McAndrew bolted the trial and Trustee Raymer arose to demand elimination of "extraneous matter," gradually dwindled away while the witness read from typewritten manuscripts.

Cites Use of Books.

Willis E. Tower, district superintendent of schools, during the first ten minutes of the hearing testified concerning history books used in various high schools. He presented a list of the schools which had used history books written by David Saville Muzzey and other authors who were cited later by Miller as spreaders of British propaganda.

Miller then described at length the investigation of school histories in New York sponsored by Mayor Hylan in 1921 and 1922. His only reference to Supt. McAndrew was a statement that the latter was connected with the New York school system during the Hylan investigation and was thoroughly familiar with the findings made at that time.

"Book for Pacifists."

"Superintendent McAndrew not only allowed the Muzzey text to be used in the Chicago schools," Miller said, "but he ignored the petition of citizens who objected to it. The Muzzey history has been referred to generally not only as an instrument of British propaganda but as a book for pacifists and radical pinkies."

He quoted several passages from Muzzey to support his contention that the author sought deliberately to malign not only the revolutionary heroes but men of national prominence during later years.

"Prof. Muzzey teaches," he said, "that it was 'a debatable question whether the abuses of the king's ministers justified armed resistance.'"

"He quotes a democratic paper in Baltimore as paying of President Harrison, 'Give him a barrel of hard cider and settle $2,000 a year on him, and he will sit the remainder of his days in his log cabin by the side of his fire studying moral philosophy.'"

Adams and Clay.

"He says that Adams and Henry Clay entered into a corrupt bargain to keep the old hero of New Orleans out of the honors which the nation had clearly voted him."

"He states that President Van Buren 'was an aristocratic New Yorker, a rich widower, who, according to campaign orators, lived in solitary splendor at the White House, eating off golden plates and drinking costly wines from silver coolers.'"

The board voted to recess the hearing until next Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 3 p. m.

Your Christmas Gift to Yourself Should be a Growth of New Hair

Watch These Points

When your hair begins to recede at the temples (1), frontal (2), or get thin on the crown (3), nature is pointing out your scalp is becoming balding. Head this position warning and save your hair by having The Thomas' correct the scalp disorder that is causing your loss of hair.

A GOOD HEAD of Hair is a gift you need and deserve and one that can come only through your own efforts and interest. Nature, with your consent, grows hair. The Thomas' treatment aids nature by eliminating the baldness producing germ, then revitalizing the dormant hair "roots" so that a new growth of hair is visible generally within a few weeks. Let The Thomas' examine your scalp today, without charge or obligation, and start your scalp on the road to health by their own original fifteen-year proven treatment.

You, Too, Can Have a Good Head of Hair

Gentlemen: When I started the Thomas' treatment my hair was falling excessively and becoming very thin. I was also troubled with itchy scalp and dandruff. Now my hair has stopped falling, the dandruff disappeared entirely and I am pleased to say a new growth of hair covers my entire scalp.

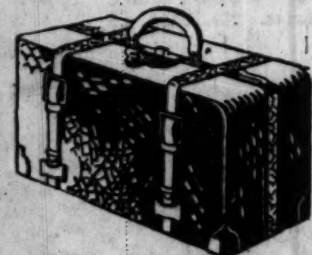

Yours very truly,

How to Have Soft,
Pretty White Skin

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful white, soft, pretty skin regardless of their age or the work they have to do.

The secret lies in rubbing a little intense over the entire face and neck severally just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be amazingly surprised at the pleasant complexion that has been acquired by even a single application.

Se-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous. It does not merely whiten the skin and complexion. Many women have made themselves look years younger by using Se-Mint.

Se-Mint is a skin cream that works and it is predicted that women who will give reasonable care to their skin will actually make up manifold of her skin and complexion.
It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

RAFT OF BUDGET MENIES PLEA FOR POLICE, FIREMEN

1928 City Can Spend
$1,600,689 More.

When long yesterday over many of the city hall, especially the police and fire departments, after the city controller Charles C. Fitzmorris had presented to the city council his tentative draft of the municipal budget for 1928.

Only $1,600,689 more can be spent next year than this year from the current fund if appropriations are kept within the prospective revenues, according to the controller's estimates. That means there will be neither 3,000 new policemen, as asked by Chief Fitzmorris, nor 1,000 new firemen, as asked by Fire Commissioner Goodrich, nor other department heads will receive the strictest economy.

Total $58,976,023.
The budget, as submitted by Mr. Fitzmorris, totals $58,976,023, as compared to $57,375,334 this year. The department heads estimated that they would need $47,563,131, or $13,412,892 more than they will receive. The council, of course, may top off the allowance to some departments and boost others, but it is a traditional policy to keep the total within the revenues estimated by the controller.

The important items in the budget and comparisons of 1927 appropriations with those recommended for 1928 are:

Department	1927	1928
General	$33,000	$36,180
Police	$711,140	$786,780
Fire	$553,540	$604,400
Public Works	$15,000,000	$16,000,000
Health	$1,186,912	$1,763,000
Education	$2,319,328	$2,341,638
Public Safety	$9,899,738	$9,899,738

Police Deficit at Millions.

The increased corporate fund tax law, established by the legislature last year, he said, prevented the city from having a $9,000,000 deficit at the end of 1927. Instead, he said, the deficit was about $1,600,000.

With the corporate fund figures Mr. Fitzmorris also submitted to the council a tentative water fund budget totaling $14,648,322 and a vehicle tax and license budget totaling $4,510,753. These will be revised with the corporate fund budget by the council's finance committee in daily sessions to be started next Monday.

FATHER PLACES BAR SINISTER ON COMPANION BRIDE

Birth Came 6 Years
Before Marriage.

Girard, Kas., Nov. 30.—(United Press.)—E. Haldeman-Julius, publisher and author, today issued a statement in which he said his daughter, Josephine, was born in New York six years before her parents were married.

The girl, who is now 18, entered a "companionate marriage" with Aubrey Roselle, University of Kansas sophomore, ten days ago.

It had been generally understood that Josephine was an adopted daughter.

Fact Is Revealed.

Haldeman-Julius also made public a statement by Jacob Wettstein, 52, Swiss miner of Ringe, Kas., who previously had been quoted as saying that he was the father of Josephine, in which Wettstein revealed his part in the career of the girl.

Haldeman-Julius is a combination of the names of the husband and wife. Julius was a New York newspaper man when he met Miss Haldeman, who aspired to become an actress. That was almost twenty years ago. They lived in the same apartment building and fell in love, today's statement by the publisher said.

The child, Josephine, was born in the Benedict apartments, on the east side of Washington square, he said.

The parents lived for six years more in New York. Then, in 1914, they came to Girard and were married, combining their names into Haldeman-Julius in accordance with their beliefs that the identity of a wife should not be submerged after her marriage.

Left Child in New York.

The child had been left in New York, but Mrs. Haldeman-Julius longed for it. The child then was placed with the Wettstein family pending formal "adoption" proceedings by her real parents, Haldeman-Julius said. After the adoption Josephine was brought up by the Haldeman-Juliuses.

Haldeman-Julius, explaining his motives for making his unusual statement today, said:

"I have made this statement because I would rather have the world know that the child was illegitimately born than to have a ridiculous lie made public which cast a shadow on my daughter's parentage. It is far better this way than to connect my daughter's birth with the Wettstein family."

QUEZON DEBATES FREE PHILIPPINES AT CLUB HERE

A spirited debate took place yesterday between Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, and William E. Clow at a meeting of the Chicago Council of Foreign Relations in the Palmer house. The Philippine senator, made an impassioned appeal for immediate independence of his country.

"Instead of standing there and pleading for a complete freedom," Mr. Clow countered, "you should be placing your name forever in history as one who did his people a great good by advocating a definite and permanent relationship between the Philippines and the United States."

"For 300 years our people lived without the aid of the United States," Señor Quezon retorted. "I see no reason why we cannot live successfully for 300 years more without the protection of the United States government."

"For 300 years our people lived in rickety, unkempt huts, that were destroyed and burned by every army that chanced along," Mr. Clow replied. "You were at the mercy of the Spaniards and abused by all until the United States took a hand. Now the Philippines are enjoying healthful living conditions. They are manufacturing and exporting goods that bring the prosperity of which you brag."

The Quick Magic of Calcium!

Do you want a beautiful complexion this week? A skin that fairly sparkles? And color that is all your own? Then give your system just a little calcium! Calcium clears away every impurity that keeps the skin sallow or dull. It keeps pores purged, and the cuticle clean. You'll feel and see the difference from the very first day you take a tiny, sugar-coated Stuart calcium wafer!

A five-day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for calcium, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 60c.

PROSECUTION OF KLAN FLOGGINGS ABRUPTLY HALTS

McCall Waits for Public to Get Behind Him.

Livermore, Ala., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Alabama's fight against masked violence came to an abrupt end today following the acquittal of two men accused of complicity in hooded whippings and a controversy between Attorney General Charles C. McCall, the state law enforcement department, and the Ku Klux Klan.

Judge A. E. Gamble adjourned court today after withdrawal by Solicitor Calvin Poole of the state's cases against thirty-one men remaining to be tried for participation in a score of masked lashings in Crenshaw county.

Other Cases May Never Be Tried.
Solicitor Poole, who has aided Mr. McCall in prosecuting the cases, said he was not willing to quash the cases, but asked that they be tabled "until such time as there is a definite sentiment in the county."

The collapse of the trials followed the withdrawal last night of Attorney General McCall from active participation in the prosecution after he had charged the Ku Klux Klan with attempting to "quiet" him in his investigation of floggings in the state. The attorney general had had charge of the inquiry that led to the indictments, and in a statement accompanying his withdrawal he charged that "the state law enforcement department, as represented by its chief supervisor and several of his assistants, have exhibited, in my judgment, a frenzied desire to assist the defense instead of the state prosecuting officials."

Two of Thirty-four Acquitted.
Shelby Gregory and Thaxton Miller, the first tried of thirty-four men named in 102 indictments by an October grand jury for complicity in Crenshaw county whippings, were acquitted. Gregory was accused of flogging a Negro woman and Miller was indicted for the lashing of Travis Boman, a farmer.

Gov. Bibb Graves today refused to comment on the outcome of the flogging trials.

INVESTIGATE BRIDE'S DEATH.
Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 30.—(AP)—An investigation is being made of the death of Mrs. Lonia Groves, 18, a bride of less than four months. She was found unconscious by her husband in her home last night. He placed her in an automobile and took her to the home of his parents, 25 miles away. She was dead when he arrived.

ILLINOIS WOMEN'S G.O.P. CLUBS O.K. BASIC DRY LAW

Laud Ruth McCormick Race for Congress.

Prohibition enforcement and the candidacy of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick for congresswoman at large from Illinois proved the feature topics yesterday afternoon at the closing session of the fifth annual convention of the Illinois Republican Women's clubs in the Congress hotel.

The convention adopted a resolution declaring the G. O. P. women in favor of national prohibition and pledging their support in its enforcement.

Candidates who appeared went on record for prohibition—not to the extent of labeling themselves dry candidates, but as recognizing that the law was on the statute books, and as such, deserving of enforcement as a part of the United States constitution.

Neither of the candidates for governor, Oscar E. Carlstrom and Louis Emmerson, went into the matter of prohibition enforcement.

Mrs. McCormick was introduced following the speeches of Rathbone and Yates. The women applauded.

After sketching her training, directed by her father, the late Mark Hanna, and recounting the experiences that fit her to be a member of congress at large from Illinois, Mrs. McCormick declared she wanted the office, just as the men did, because she wanted the job, and, more than that, she wants to blaze the trail of women further into the field of politics.

"These candidates here know," she declared, "that women have not had an equal chance. They know it, and we know they know it, and they know that we know it. My candidacy is my answer to any one who thinks we have."

"When a man goes upon a railroad track he knows that he goes to a place where he will be killed if a train comes upon him before he is clear of the track. He knows that he must stop for the train, not the train stop for him. In such circumstances it seems to us that if a driver cannot be sure otherwise whether a train is dangerously near he must stop and get out of his vehicle, although obviously he will not often be required to do more than to stop and look. It seems to us that if he relies upon not hearing the train or any signal and takes no further precaution he does so at his own risk."

The decision in this case was that the railroad was not responsible for and should not have to pay damages for the death of a motorist that was caused by his failure to follow this standard of conduct.

Such a conclusion is logical. Railway tracks are the nation's great highways of commerce and travel, and it is imperative that trains run on them at high speed and on schedule. Since these trains obviously cannot be stopped at highway crossings to let motorists and others get out of the way, it is therefore necessary for those who cross the tracks to be on the look-out for their own safety. The decision of the Supreme Court leaves no room for doubt on that point.

The decision will in no way diminish the efforts of the Illinois Central System to prevent accidents at crossings. Our railroad will continue to do everything it can do to avert such accidents. But this decision makes it plain that, regardless of what the railroad may do to guard against accident, those who cross the tracks are responsible for their own safety.

This statement is published in the hope that a public understanding of the views held by the highest court in the land will be widely influential in safeguarding life and property at crossings.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

—L. A. DOWNS,
President, Illinois Central System.

TRY SELLER OF FRUIT JUICE FOR DRY LAW PLOT

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Standing squarely upon its interpretation of certain sections of the Volstead act, the defense in the Vineland liquor conspiracy case rested today without undertaking to controvert any essential fact of the government's case of prima facie evidence.

The legal theory upon which the government relies is that by selling unfermented fruit juices which, under normal circumstances, would ferment and produce a liquid of unlawful alcoholic content, the four defendants conspired to violate the sections of the Volstead act which forbid the manufacture, transportation, and sale of liquors containing more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol by volume.

The government takes the position that, even though the carefully refrigerated juice was of lawful alcoholic content when in the defendants' possession, they sold it with the knowledge it would ferment and with the intention of promoting sales on the basis of its fermentation.

Counsel for the defendants rely upon the twenty-ninth section of the Volstead law, which, they say, has been construed to permit the use of fruit juices within the home even though they ferment and attain an alcoholic content in excess of one-half of 1 per cent by volume.

The defense says that the juice was sold and placed in householders' hands when its alcoholic content was within the law, and that, even if fermentation subsequently took place and the alcoholic content increased, the process was given lawful sanction by section 29.

POLISH REPORTS SAY LITHUANIA MASSES TROOPS

WARSAW, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Warsaw newspapers printed reports today that Lithuanian troops along the entire border have been greatly increased to prevent refugees and army deserters from going into Poland. The papers also report a battle took place last night just across the border near Olkieniki between Lithuanian troops and insurgents, the latter finally being dispersed.

There is considerable less excitement in the Polish press and public opinion generally concerning the Lithuanian question and optimism is felt regarding a settlement at the next session of the council of the league of nations. Premier Pilsudski will visit London and Rome immediately after the league meeting.

Waldemaras to Present Case.
KOVNO, Lithuania, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Premier Waldemaras of Lithuania, accompanied by Dr. David Zaunius, former Lithuanian representative at Geneva, will leave for Switzerland Friday afternoon to represent his country at the forthcoming league council discussion on Polish-Lithuanian relations. No new coalition government has been formed as yet to take up the task of handling Lithuania's relations to Poland, and it is not likely that one will be formed before the Lithuanian-Polish questions come before the league because of the shortness of time.

Marion Harris, Actress, Files Suit for Divorce
Marion Harris, stage celebrity now starring in "A Night in Spain," filed suit for divorce in the Superior court yesterday against her husband, Rush Bissell, a stepson of Rupert Hughes, the novelist. The charge is desertion. They have one child, a son 3 years old. They were married in 1923. The bill was drawn by Attorney Philip R. Davis.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

A case which will determine the legal power of the loop traffic police to deny motorists the right to make a right hand turn at the discretion of the traffic officer at loop intersections has been set for trial this morning before Judge Harry Hamilton.

Motor traffic has been increasing within the loop steadily since Labor day, according to the traffic department, with normal traffic light control unable to handle the situation and traffic officers on foot are necessary to prevent blockades and tieups at busy corners of the day.

For several weeks Capt. Frank Matchett of the city traffic bureau has requested his officers to keep traffic straight through the loop and congestion of in-bound traffic be- hind it requires rapid clearing of vehicles from the streets.

Many complaints have been made in the traffic department against the police, but Capt. Matchett has held that it would be impossible to prevent blockades if the traffic officers were not permitted to direct movement of traffic on the basis of their judgment in emergencies.

Yesterday Orlino Mariotto, a chauffeur employed by Thomas Keeley, 5492 South Shore drive, was arrested for making a right hand turn from Madison street into Dearborn street. Before turning, the chauffeur informed the officer that he had been ordered not to turn right into Wabash avenue and had been stopped from turning right into State street. As his employer had directed him to report at Washington and Wabash, he stated that he finally made the right turn into Dearborn street.

While the case is primarily one of violation of traffic rules, the arrest is to be resisted upon constitutional grounds and may result in depriving the traffic department of power to handle loop vehicular movement according to present methods.

Motor Club Takes Hand.
For the purpose of ascertaining the legal status of the actions of the police the Chicago Motor club has taken a hand in the case and Attorney Joseph Brain, counsel for that organization, will appear for Mariotto.

According to Capt. Matchett the increasing loop congestion is caused in some degree by a large class of persons who visit the loop by motor car and while engaged in their personal affairs cause their drivers to cruise the loop for hours.

BUILDERS URGE UNION TO REJOIN NATIONAL BOARD

Fear Jurisdictional Differences.

Building contractors of Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, and New York yesterday voiced a protest against the action of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor in withdrawing from the national board for jurisdictional awards.

The protest was made at a conference called by the National Building

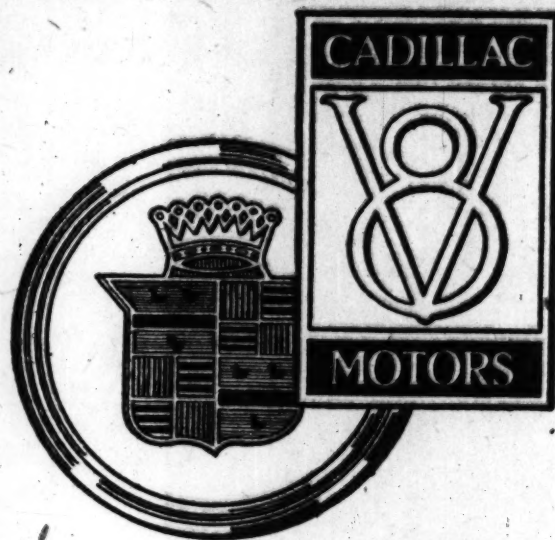

Trades employers, an organization to which the builders of the four cities hold membership. The building trades employers reaffirmed their adherence to the board for jurisdictional awards, and challenged labor to come back into the adjustment tribunal or devise some new means of adjusting jurisdictional disputes.

Oscar W. Rosenthal, head of the Builders' association of Chicago, sketched building conditions in the country and said: "Wages have reached a peak and are stabilized. There will be no downward trend for possibly two years, although there may be some regulation by the law of supply and demand. It is essential that a tribunal be set up of building trades leaders and employers to adjust disputes. Settlement of disputes of a jurisdictional nature within a family sphere is almost impossible." George W. Jones, international head of the roofers' union, last night said the architects and engineers failed to carry out decisions of the board when drawing plans.

Former Aurora Banker Indicted as Embezzler

John L. Esser, 38 years old, former president of the defunct Aurora Trust and Savings Bank, was indicted yesterday by a Kane county grand jury on sixteen charges of embezzlement by the law of confidence game. In jail since Oct. 6, Esser has admitted taking the money and spending it on high living but refuses to state where he lost $300,000 of the bank's funds.

CHICAGO CAGE PROS LOSE 28-26 TO CLEVELAND

Visitors Triumph in Closing Seconds.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
The score and thirty seconds to go, Center Deighan broke loose to score from under the basket, and the Cleveland Rosenblums defeated the Chicago Bruins, 28 to 26, at the Broadway armory last night in the opening game here of the American Pro Basketball league. Although the Bruins were the short end of a 14 to 8 score at half time, they came back with an assault on the Cleveland net, which should have won the game. Homer Stonebraker, who had four field goals in the second half, and Jerry Sullivan, the Bruins' defensive player, with three, did the best to avert the last minute rout. For Cleveland, Carl Husta, veteran forward, demonstrated to the 1,000 fans that he has lost none of the speed and shooting skill which last season made him one of the leading performers in the league.

Husta's Shooting Perfect.
Husta's accuracy in shooting appeared perfect. In the first half he made the first two shots he attempted and he added another pair before the game ended, besides tossing three throws in the same number of efforts. He also was the center cog in the Rosenblums' passing. Teamed with Husta at forward, the pair forced the same kind of game last night that he kept Cleveland at the head of the league.

Three times in the last half Chicago was within one point of catching the Cleveland five and as many times the Rosenblums widened the gap. Sullivan, who field goals midway in the first half, created the first opportunity for the Bruins, the only newcomer in the Cleveland lineup, dribbled in to give Cleveland a 23 to 20 lead. Red Barak, in a follow shot, but Hanson, in two free throws and the Bruins won 25 to 22.

In trying to keep a loose ball from the hands of Husta back passed into Deighan's hands, and the lanky forward negotiated the goal and again the Bruins were only one point shy of a victory. However, scored on a rebound, the Bruins were not content. Husta made his third long distance shot, 18 to 24 ft. Both teams played evenly for the one chance that would win the game, and then with thirty seconds to go Deighan broke loose under the basket. He was guarded by Mark Harper, but scored from under the basket.

New Rules Improve Game.
The new pro league rules improved last night's game. Although 20 personal fouls were called during the game, only five free throws were awarded. Lou Sugarman, the referee, is carrying loss of the foul, because the foul was not committed against a player in possession of the ball. Time out was taken on account of fouls and jump balls, but the incentive to stall during the last minutes in protection of a small lead.

While the game was speeded up by the new rules, Referee Sugarman had a difficult time detecting Cleveland fouls. Cleveland had ten shots while the Bruins had two, and many of the registered protests at what they considered discrimination.

In the preliminary game, the Christ team defeated the Harvey boys, 15 to 14, while the Taylor Trunk girls' team won away from the Harvey quintet, 15 to 14. Cleveland and the Bruins met in the final game of the series to win the league.

Forty Cubs to Seek Spot in Baseball Sun

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Being a fellow who thinks work is a lot of fun, Joe McCarthy, the Cub boss, should have a gay old time when he assembles his collection of forty in the Catalina Island camp late in February.

All that the quiet, unassuming pilot has to do, barring intrusions on the roster by previous releases, will be to watch the antics of forty proven ball players and some who are not so proven.

Pitching Talent Promising.
To date the fact that the Cubs are the possessors of some young hurlers who may break out in song as soon as they get the chance, has been overlooked and even though Mr. Kiki Cuyler, the late Pirate, is a member of the team, pitching will continue about the most important item.

One thrower of prominence and promise is Pat Malone, whose name was one of the forty enrolled on the club roster made public yesterday by President William Veeck. Malone is one of those giant men and he went so strong at Minneapolis last season that he was crowned the strikout king of the circuit. He was purchased, not on the recommendation of a scout, but because McCarthy had seen him work and was not afraid to take a chance on his judgment.

Still another who is going to receive close watching from the manager is Pete Fowler, who probably will be known as "Gink." He is a southpaw and during the first part of last season compiled a formidable record for the Atlanta club. Then he slowed down because of a sore arm resulting from overwork.

In the Wake of the News

THAT "TOUCHBACK."
N decisions involving questions of judgment it is the Wake's policy to agree with the official verdict without criticism unless our opinion is so strongly to the contrary that we feel we ought to give it expression. On that "touchback" in the Notre Dame-Southern California game the officials were in better position to see than we were.

There is one feature, however, which has not been brought out, and while it does not affect the merits of the decision per se it does affect the equity of the case. If Southern California was "robbed of victory" it was robbed of a "lucky" victory and not an "earned" victory.

Southern California attempted a forward pass. When Riley intercepted the play failed so far as California was concerned. If officials had ruled that Riley fumbled after intercepting, California's subsequent recovery and safety for two points would be generally regarded as a "lucky" rather than an "earned" break. That's the point we wanted to make.

Meeting Umpire John Schommer in the C. A. A. after the game, we asked for an explanation of the dispute on the field. Schommer said: "Field Judge Griffith ruled no possession and control. Control means actual control. A man might run ten yards with the ball, but juggling it all that distance, and it would not be in his possession and control within the rules. If he then dropped the ball it still would be an incomplete pass."

YALE A. A. FAILS TO ACT ON GRID COACH PROBLEM

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Selection of a football coach to succeed T. A. D. Jones, whose contract has expired, has not been considered by the Yale Athletic association in any way. It was stated with authority today in answer to reports that had come here that Ed Leader, rowing coach, might become football coach. It was stated that many reports of prospective candidates for the coaching position have come here, most of them linked with names of coaches at other universities. The novelty about Ed Leader is that he already is at Yale.

Pat Page to Address Illini Luncheon Today

H. O. [Pat] Page, coach of the Indiana university football team, will be the speaker at the luncheon of the Illini Club of Chicago today. The luncheon, starting at 12:15 p. m., will be held in the Ivory room of Mandel Brothers. Page will talk about the conference football season just closed and discuss possible changes in the rules for 1928.

Catholic Preps Hope for Dry Grid Saturday

"If we can have a dry gridiron Saturday at Soldiers' field, I'm sure the Mount Carmel and Schurz football teams will have a real scrap."

Coach Tom Reardon was speaking as he watched his squad running down passes, passing and limbering up at Jackson park yesterday.

"I'm afraid of only one thing," Reardon continued, "and that is a wet or muddy field. In that case 'breaks' may win the game and the true offensive worth of the eleven may not be demonstrated."

Beyond the prediction that the game would be a real scrap, Coach Reardon had nothing to say. He believes his team the better, but doesn't like to talk about it.

Both Schurz and Mount Carmel depend on a running attack directed at the tackles interspersed with forward passes, and the condition of the field is a mighty important item. Despite the chill northern wind yesterday at Jackson park, the Mount Carmel squad was a strong team.

Edie Stafford, right half back and the team's kicker, got off several long spiraling punts which Jack Powell duplicated at the other side of the field. After a short passing drill, the team turned to signal practice. There was no scrimmage and will be none, save of the harmless dummy variety, for Coach Reardon doesn't want Mount Carmel's chances of victory reduced by a practice field injury.

Team Is Well Balanced.
Mount Carmel has an exceptionally well balanced team. The starting line will average 178 pounds, Hal Cherne, the right tackle, topping the list with 208 pounds. Cherne is one of the best backs in the Catholic league and with Capt. Mel Brosseau, Charles Knoch, center, and Bud Borrelli, left half, is considered a likely selection for an all-city Catholic team.

The back field will average about 187 pounds. But the best asset of the backs is speed. All have the quick starting ability so necessary to the Notre Dame shift plays. Pat Spanier and Jack Powell are the team's general and the quarter back assignment.

Coach Reardon saw the Schurz game with Roosevelt High in St. Louis last Saturday and has spent several days preparing his team to meet the passes of Max Deutch and the open field running of Ted Gawn.

Tickets for the game are selling rapidly. The original quota sent to the city high schools has been sold out in many cases, while the public demand indicates at least 50,000 will see the game. The proceeds will be used by Chicago's newspapers for their annual Christmas charities.

Field Judge Denies Giving Opinion on Touchback Play

Denial by Field Judge John E. Griffith that he was the rule the disputed Riley play in the Notre Dame-Southern California game a touchback was the only new development in yesterday's discussion of the intersectional battle that attracted 117,000 to Soldiers' field.

Griffith was the last of the four officials to issue a statement. In addition to denying that he had given an opinion on the play as charged by Umpire John Schommer, Griffith was at variance with Schommer in other points of his statement, which follows:

"Schommer is absolutely wrong when he says he asked for my opinion before making his ruling that Riley's play was a touchback and not a safety," Griffith said. "His first words to me were to the effect that it was a touchback. I asked him if he was certain it was a touchback. He said he was."

To these assertions Schommer made no further remarks last night. In his first statement he had explained that when Riley caught the ball he was making his goal. "His back was all I could see and not the ball," the umpire said. "The ball was lost to my sight as I was back of Riley probably 15 yards."

Not in Riley's Possession.
"The disappearance of the ball from sight allowed me but guesswork as to possession and control. There was only one official that could justly rule as to what was the field judge who was facing the play. He gave his decision with courage and promptness, deciding 'not possession and control. Therefore I ruled a touchback.'"

Griffith admitted he had followed the play directly as soon as the intercepted pass nestled into Riley's hands. "I was the right when Riley intercepted the pass," he said. "The play happened in my territory I followed it up. As Riley came down after reaching for the ball I thought he had possession of it. He turned his back to me and took several steps during which I could not see whether he had possession or not. Then the ball fell free. When I saw the ball I followed it up with the idea of a safety in mind. Then when it was over Schommer came running up to me."

He said, "Touchback—Notre Dame did not have possession and control." "When he said this I figured that Schommer had seen more than I did. So at the time I replied 'O. K.' and that was all that I said. I certainly did not make any ruling or statement, as attributed to me in reports of Schommer's statement."

"When Drury came up he took up the question with Schommer and not with me, and this makes it self-evident that Schommer was the man who ruled on the play."

Referee Didn't See Play.
Griffith didn't attempt to explain why he lost sight of the ball and could see only the player's back when he admitted that he was facing Riley when the ball reached the Notre Dame quarter back's arms.

Neither Referee George Varnell nor Walter Eckersall could throw further light on the play.

"I didn't see the play and took the umpire's word for it," Varnell said. "When Riley, the Notre Dame quarter back, reached for the pass on his goal line the ball was hidden from my view, so naturally I did not know just what occurred."

Walter Eckersall's comment on the play from his account of the game in last Sunday's TRIBUNE follows:

"The decision, although questioned by Capt. Drury and other Southern California players, was correct. It hinged on a question of judgment as to whether the ball was in control and possession of Riley, the Notre Dame quarter back, who had intercepted a Southern California pass. A fraction of a second after he caught the ball he was tackled by a Trojan player and the ball struck in the end zone and rolled over the end line."

A touchback always results when a ball on any incomplete forward pass strikes the ground in the end zone. After these statements were digested, discussion about who should have won the game, were becoming few and far between here.

Out at the Southern California camp both Capt. Morley Drury and Coach Howard Jones expressed dismay at the furor created by the discussion over the play in dispute.

INVADERS SKATE CIRCLES AROUND CHICAGO TEAM

6,000 See Fast Game
at Coliseum.

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

Les Canadiens, the flying Frenchmen from Montreal, lived up to their name last night when they outplayed and out-gamed the Blackhawks in a National league hockey match to win, 5 goals to 2. The Montreal players skated circles around the Chicago outfit and scored in every period. More than 6,000 saw the match.

The game was the fastest match of the season, and on their showing last night the Canadiens will be a hard team to beat for the title. The Hawks also speeded up their play, but besides the brilliant and tricky skating of the visitors the Chicago team's exhibition looked anything but fast.

Montreal's offense centered around the forward line combination of Gagne, Joliat, and Moroz, and this trio showed the Hawks more accurate passing than they have looked at all season. Time after time the Montreal forwards charged through Chicago's defensive line, passing the puck along the line just beyond the reach of the Chicago defenders.

Blackhawks Battle Valiantly.
The Blackhawks fought back hard, but couldn't match the skill of the Canadiens. With Capt. Dick Irvin back in the lineup the scoring strength of the local team was much improved. They scored their first points of the season on the local rink. In both of their previous home games the Hawks were held scoreless, but with Capt. Irvin back their passing was better and their shots at the Montreal goal net were more true.

Montreal got away to a two goal lead in the opening period. Twelve minutes after play started Gagne dashed down the rink on one of his circling, spinning drives and passed the Blackhawks' defense to score. His short, low shot caught the Hawks' goalie of the Hawks floundered and the little fellow didn't see the puck until it was in his net. Then Mantha, the tall, rangy Montreal defense star, broke away and took the rubber up the ice line eluded both Trapp and Wentworth and beat Gardiner to the net with a short, high shot. The time of the goal was 3:00.

McKay Scores for Hawks.
Howie Moroz brought the Montreal score to 3 to 0 in the first two minutes of play in the second period. McKay netted a drive of more than fifty feet which spun past Gardiner just below the Chicago goalie's ankles. Then came the first of the Chicago goals. Mickey McKay went into a scramble of Montreal players to frantically Canadiens' net and picked the puck out with his stick. He managed to break in between the two Canadian defense men, taking a shot into the left side of the net which drove Goalie Hainsworth aside, he drove the puck into the right corner of the scoring basket.

Montreal immediately countered with a series of rushes and Joliat broke loose. Getting the puck on a rebound off the rink wall, he skated through the entire Chicago team to score.

Both teams counted in the final period which was the fastest exhibition of hockey seen on the Chicago rink. Manager Barney Stanley of the Hawks rushed fresh men on the ice at every opportunity in an effort to speed the Chicago team's game enough to pass the Canadiens, but Montreal matched substitute for substitute and held its own. Charlie McVeigh scored the Chicago point in the second period when he skated to the left side of the net and scored.

While Joliat scored unassisted, the Hawks departed for Detroit where they will engage the Cougars tonight in a league contest.

The victory of the Canadiens raised them to a tie for the leadership of the international division of the league with the Montreal Maroons, each team having won three games and tied one during the season for a point standing of 7 points. Lineup:

BRIDGE LEAGUE MEMBERS START TITLE PLAY TODAY

Henry P. Jaeger Will Be 1928 President.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

The mere matter of a business meeting and the election of officers of the American Bridge League stands in the way of the battle for the bridge championship of the United States.

These formalities will be put out of the way this morning and about 200 men and 100 women will begin play in the ballroom of the Hotel Sherman at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the championship and 700 or more others will begin their private war in the open contests for the 400 silver cups for the highest scores.

The huge room will be more silent than a library, for no spectators will be admitted, no private scores can be kept and the silence will be broken only by the flip of cards touching the table or the soft but potent "double" or "the ace, please."

Play for the championship is limited to members of the league, which means men only, though the women associate members will have a championship contest of their own while any one who can think he or she can play bridge is welcome to enter the open duplicate and open straight auction contests at $2.50 a session.

President Richards Retires.

Of the present officers, who incidentally are the first officers of the league, President R. R. Richards of Detroit and E. J. Tobin of Chicago, secretary and treasurer, will retire. The nominating committee, headed by Carl T. Robertson of Cleveland, will name Henry P. Jaeger of Cleveland, present vice president, for president, Edward P. Martin of Chicago for vice president and C. W. Aldrich of Cleveland for secretary and treasurer. For directors the following will be nominated:

E. J. Tobin, Chicago; R. R. Fox, Los Angeles; H. C. Richards, William E. Talbot, George Reth and Ely Culbertson of New York; A. J. Pellette of Milwaukee; Carl T. Robertson of Cleveland; Irvin Huston of Detroit; Walter J. Pray of Indianapolis; L. B. Weber of Cincinnati; F. E. Bruhlhede of Minneapolis and R. D. Needham of Greenville, Pa.

Two championships for men and two for women are open to league members, pairs and teams of four. Bridge players who desire to compete in either of these championships may join the league today. They may either arrange for their own partners or pairs will be arranged by tournament officers before play begins. These partners need not be kept through the tournament in the open contests.

Women Pairs Play Today. The women's pair championship will be decided today and the team of four championship tomorrow. The men's teams will play through four of the six sessions as pairs, which championship will be decided tomorrow, total score of four men teams to determine the two teams which will enter the $2 deal final Saturday afternoon and evening.

Each of the six sessions of the two open divisions is a separate contest, though prizes will be awarded for the highest cumulative aggregate scores for the six sessions. Players who believe in their ability to play the cards can enter the open duplicate contest, while those who believe in their luck can enter the open straight contest.

QUINCY 3 EYE FRANCHISE SOLD TO INDIANAPOLIS

Quincy, Ill., Nov. 30.—[Special.]—The Quincy Three Eye's baseball franchise, including players, was sold to the Indianapolis club of the American Association today. The consideration was $3,500. President Perry and Secretary Crouch of the Indianapolis club, were here to close the deal. It is believed that Harold Irelan, manager of the Decatur club last year, will pilot the locals.

and Brillheart. Most of the others may not survive but will be given employment at the numerous Cub farms.

Fourteen infielders grace the roster but the prospects are excellent for some important alterations in this department. The number will not be reduced, however. Grimm and Tolson are the sole candidates for first base and the latter's status is not definite. English, who showed considerable shortstopping last season, is a sure thing for his old post but the second and third corners are problems.

Rookies Boast Good Records.

Of the newcomers in this class, Norman McMillan, drafted from St. Paul, and Fred Maguire, purchased from Toledo, are the most prominent. Both were outstanding performers in the Association and the good part about McMillan is that he has experience, something McCarthy will need on the infield if he doesn't grab a finished performer in a trade. Both these men will find Beck a hard man to beat for a job. The latter is not yet at the peak of his ability.

Other infielders on the list are Kern, who was up last spring; Koehler, purchased from Toledo where he played both the infield and outfield; Piek, who remains a man of promise despite his poor showing when placed on third in midseason, and Doc Prothro, a veteran drafted from the coast league. Yeter also is present but probably will not stick for long.

The outfield, with six men—Cuyler, Wilson, Stephenson, Heathcote, Webb and Kelly, the latter recalled from Toledo—is not going to give McCarthy any worries. Neither is the catching department which probably will continue to be made up of Hartnett, Connolly and Churry. A last named Leggett from Atlanta has been added for a tryout.

ARMY TEAMS WILL COMPETE IN 1928 OLYMPIC GAMES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—[AP.]—Army teams for the pentathlon and equestrian events of the Olympic games to be held in Holland next year were provided for in the acceptance today by the war department of the request of the American Olympic association to prepare teams for participation in the games.

Cross country riding and running, swimming, pistol shooting and fencing are the five events in the modern pentathlon, while the equestrian events consist of an endurance test of 36 kilometers and jumping.

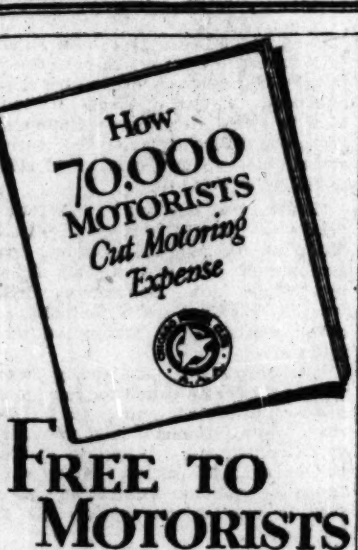

Training of the army teams will be conducted by the commanding general, second corps area, New York. The effort to find qualified men will include the navy and marine corps personnel. Final training of the riding team will be at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Harvard-Michigan Grid Pacts Denied at Cambridge

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 30.—[AP.]—Harvard may play Michigan in 1928, but so far the university authorities have not considered the possibility or that of the home and home agreement which reports from New York City have declared was all but signed.

William J. Bingham, director of athletics for Harvard, made that announcement today. "We have done nothing definite about the playing list for 1928," Mr. Bingham said. "The matter of the schedule for that year has not come up between Coach Horween and myself."

"Horween was in a hurry to get back to Chicago immediately after the Yale game but will soon be back in Cambridge and coming schedules will be among the things which doubtless will be discussed."

CUBS TAKE SHORT END OF PIRATE DEAL, PILOTS SAY

New York, Nov. 30.—[Special.]—Most eastern baseball men believe the Pittsburgh club got much the better of the deal which sent Kiki Cuyler to the Chicago team in exchange for Sparky Adams and Pete Scott.

"The Cubs got the worst of that one," said Manager John McGraw of the Giants. "Adams is a dangerous hitter, a good ball player. With a hard hitting team like the Pirates behind him he will be more troublesome than ever. There is a question whether Cuyler is as good as he is used to be."

"Looks to me like the Pirates got a lot for nothing," Ed Barrow, general manager of the Yankees remarked. "The Pirates lost no strength because they would not use Cuyler and they fortified themselves where they needed help. International league pilots almost to a man gave the Pirates the edge. The one exception was Bill Clymer, Buffalo manager. "The Pirates gave Cuyler away," he said. "I could have got a ball club for him and cash besides."

N. Y. GIANTS CITE LANDIS RULING IN KAUFF SUIT

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 30.—[AP.]—The ruling of K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, barring Bennie Kauff, Columbus, O., from professional baseball was a defense stated in an answer filed in the United States District court here today by the New York National league club to the suit instituted by Kauff seeking $4,052.50 as damages for alleged breach of contract in 1921.

The defendant admitted that it entered into a contract with Kauff for his services during the 1921 season, and that it agreed to pay him $6,500. Kauff, the answer stated, was paid $2,000 under the contract, but it denied that the New York club is indebted to him for the balance of $4,500 or any other sum.

TRADE IN GRAINS MOSTLY EVENING UP IN DECEMBER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

General evening up was under way yesterday in the December deliveries of grain with scattered long liquidations, while cash interests bought the nearby future and sold the deferred, changing over hedges. Spreads in wheat and oats showed little change, while in corn the difference widened $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ cent for December under May of the last. Wheat finished unchanged to $\frac{1}{8}$ cent lower with December, $\$1.27\frac{1}{2}$ to $\$1.27\frac{1}{4}$, and May, $\$1.32\frac{1}{2}$ to $\$1.33\frac{1}{4}$. Corn was $\frac{1}{8}$ cent lower with December, $\$1.27\frac{1}{2}$ to $\$1.27\frac{1}{4}$, and May, $\$1.32\frac{1}{2}$ to $\$1.33\frac{1}{4}$. Oats were $\frac{1}{8}$ cent lower to $\frac{1}{4}$ cent higher, and rye, $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ cent higher.

Local sentiment in wheat was somewhat bearish, in sympathy with a decline of $\frac{1}{8}$ cent in Liverpool, which declined on prospects of liberal deliveries on December contracts. The break abroad was offset to some extent by strength in Winnipeg which gained $\frac{1}{8}$ cent for the day. Commission houses were on both sides of the market, with rather good buying in evidence in the December at times. The trade looks for deliveries of 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bu to be made on December contracts.

Kansas City December corn, which closed at $\$1.25$ went to a discount under both the Argentine markets, Buenos Aires closing $\frac{1}{8}$ cent higher at $\$1.25\frac{1}{2}$, while Rosario was up at like amount at $\$1.25\frac{1}{2}$. Bulk of the trade in futures here was in evening up in the December delivery, with scattered liquidation in evidence. December oats went to a discount of around $\frac{1}{8}$ cent under May, as the result of liquidation by scattered longs. Cash houses and the northwest bought December and sold May. Commission houses were on the buying side of May.

Shorts in December rye started to cover and found offerings light, advancing prices sharply, and the close was at the top. Longs sold December and bought May. Duluth reported a brisk demand from exporters, but failed to give the amounts sold.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Grain traders are expecting deliveries today of around 1,250,000 to 1,500,000 bu of wheat; 1,300,000 to 1,750,000 bu of corn and 1,250,000 to 1,500,000 bu of oats and possibly some rye. There has been enormous covering of short December wheat in the last few days, and the open interest is said to be greatly reduced. Cash interests have changed over millions of bushels of corn from December to March and May during the last two weeks, the spread being $\frac{1}{8}$ cent yesterday, which makes it attractive for carriers to take in the cash grain and sell the May. The out deliveries, it is understood, will be largely No. 3 whites.

With a heavy reduction in the short interest in wheat by large traders, and a changing over of spreads from December to March and May by cash interests, it leaves the technical situation in December easy, yet there was active buying of offers after the close. About the same situation exists in corn, with December offers bid up $\frac{1}{8}$ cent after the close.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat in all positions were finally estimated at 250,000 bu with a little rise, but the general demand was slow, and sales were largely in small lots.

BETTER TONE IN COTTON

Cotton markets had a better tone yesterday and prices at times were 30 points higher than the previous day's finish. At the last some easing came, and net gains on futures were from 7 to 11 points in Chicago and from 5 to 10 points in other markets. Spots gained 10 points with New York, 10.50; New Orleans, 10.15; and Galveston and Houston, 10.25.

Liverpool cotton was 7 to 8 points net higher with spot sales 7,000 bales. It was said at the close that liquidation appeared to be well over and the technical position made strong.

Two private crop reports were issued showing 12,585,000 and 12,575,000 bales below picking made good progress during the week, and is nearly completed. In Oklahoma it is 90 per cent to 100 per cent completed. A little top crop remains to be finished in the Rio Grande valley. Prices follow:

We do not guarantee the statements and figures presented herein, but they are taken from sources which we believe to be reliable.

For three years during the Civil War, the raids of the Confederate leader, Nathan Bedford Forrest, held several Union states under a reign of terror. Asked how he did it in a territory bristling with Union troops, he replied, "I get there with the MOSTest men FUSTest."

This maxim applies splendidly to selling merchandise today. One of your most potent selling forces is your army of printed salesmen—your advertisements—and success in the business battle of today will go to him "who gets there with the MOSTest salesmen FUSTest."

When it comes to "getting there with the MOSTest FUSTest," The Tribune unquestionably is the leading medium in the Chicago territory—with more and better circulation than any other Chicago medium can offer!

- a good principle in selling

To get best results use your strongest sales medium—MOST!

SUCCESS IN WAR goes to the general who launches his greatest force against his opponent's most vital point.

SUCCESS IN BUSINESS goes to the merchant who concentrates his greatest sales effort where he can reach the buyers with maximum effect.

In the Chicago market, unquestionably the strongest road to sales is advertising in The Chicago Tribune. Your advertisement in the daily Tribune places your offer overnight before 64% of the families in Chicago and suburbs—reaches more readers than any other Chicago daily reaches with its total circulation. A Sunday advertisement reaches 77% of the families in your trading territory of Chicago and suburbs—over a quarter million more than you can reach through any other Chicago paper, daily or Sunday.

Your internal and overhead expense will be the same regardless of the papers you use. But your advertisement in The Tribune reaches more prospects than it will when placed in any other paper—and more prospects mean quicker sell-outs and faster turnover on the same overhead.

The Tribune's incomparable blanketing of the Chicago market make it the royal road to sales in the territory. Whatever else you do, be sure you first make maximum use of Chicago's most productive advertising medium!

European Mortgage & Investment Corporation

First Lien Real Estate Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Series C 7%

Dated September 15, 1927 Due September 15, 1967

Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin at the office of Lee, Higginson & Company and J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation in New York and at the office of Lee, Higginson & Company in Boston and Chicago. Coupon bonds, negotiable as to principal only; in $1,000 and $500 denominations interchangeable. Callable as a whole or in part at any time on 30 days' notice at par and accrued interest.

Sinking Fund sufficient to retire entire issue by maturity

From letters of the President of the European Mortgage & Investment Corporation and Oliver Jacobi, Esq., Managing Director of the Coöperative Society of Hungarian Mortgage Institutions, we summarize as follows:

BUSINESS: European Mortgage & Investment Corporation was organized in 1925 by Lee, Higginson & Co. and J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation. One of its principal purposes is to make carefully selected foreign investments. The Corporation has outstanding $2,290,000 (closed) Series A 7 1/2% Bonds secured by Austrian land mortgage obligations and $5,999,500 Series B 7 1/2% Bonds (not including $1,250,000 presently to be issued; $15,000,000 authorized) secured by Hungarian land mortgage obligations.

These Series C Bonds will be secured by mortgage obligations of the Coöperative Society of Hungarian Mortgage Institutions (Magyar Jelzálogintézeteknek Szövetkezete) which is being formed in Hungary to issue its mortgage obligations to the Corporation. It has as its members several of the most important Hungarian banks.

SECURITY: These Series C Bonds will be a direct obligation of the Corporation and will be secured by deposit with the Trustee of an equal amount of mortgage obligations of the Coöperative Society. These mortgage obligations in turn will be secured by at least an equal amount of first mortgages on farms, residential property and apartment houses in Hungary.

The first mortgages will be deposited with and guaranteed by a Member Bank. In addition, each Member Bank will guarantee proportionately the prompt payment of interest and principal upon all the mortgage obligations of the Coöperative Society. This liability is such, however, that each Bank is ultimately liable for all the mortgage obligations of the Society. The principal and interest on both the first mortgages and on the mortgage obligations will be payable in United States gold coin.

Additional bonds of this or other series may be issued against the pledge of an equal face value of mortgage obligations of the Coöperative Society. Under Hungarian law all mortgage obligations of the Coöperative Society are equally secured by all first mortgages held by the Society.

PLEDGED FIRST MORTGAGES: Each first mortgage will be administered and guaranteed by the Member Bank which has selected it. No mortgage will exceed 40% of the conservative appraised valuation of the property, and the borrower must constantly reduce his loan through semi-annual cumulative amortization payments sufficient to retire the loan by its maturity.

PURPOSE: The proceeds of these Bonds will be used from time to time to pay for mortgage obligations of the Coöperative Society as such obligations are pledged with the Trustee. If $7,000,000 of such obligations are not obtained by January 16, 1928, interim receipts equal to the difference will be retired through purchase or call.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although the steel industry is proceeding at a rather slow pace, improvement is expected after the turn of the year and the trade is more optimistic than in recent weeks. This is the consensus of the weekly reviews appearing yesterday.

"Consumption of steel remains steady. Judged by the full volume of specifications going to the mills," the Iron Age says. "The Youngstown district now is making more steel and more expansion in the Chicago district more than balances a recession in the south. A number of mills have higher operating schedules for December and the general expectation is for rising demand for activity in bookings and production early in 1928. The price structure is still awaiting the telling test."

Little Change in Production.

"Production of pig iron in November was practically on a parity with October, with returns indicating an output of 2,647,200 gross tons for the thirty days of November, compared with 2,744,112 tons for October. The daily averages were 88,240 tons for November and 91,470 tons for October. Both are the lowest since August, 1925. Comparing eleven-month periods, 1927 is off 8.8 per cent from 1926, but slightly above 1925, which was a 36,400,000 ton year."

"Pig iron demand has expanded to proportions indicating a first quarter buying movement is under way," the Iron Trade says. "There is the prospect that automotive foundries in the Detroit district will shortly cover in a substantial manner. Western railroads have closed on 55,000 tons of rails and 25,000 tons of track fastenings and are negotiating for a large proportion of the 235,000 to 250,000 tons of rails and 50,000 to 75,000 tons of fastenings they have yet to place."

Mail Houses Prosper.

November sales figures to be issued today by the Chicago mail order houses are expected to show one of the best months in their history. It was estimated sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. will be about 6 per cent higher than a year ago, which would mark the eighth successive month to show an increase over the corresponding month last year. Montgomery Ward & Co. is expected to show a good gain.

Railroad earnings continue to lag behind a year ago. Aggregate net railway operating income for October for the first six roads to report was $106,328,000, a decline of 6.5 per cent from $113,514,000 of October, 1926. Their September net was $107,809,000. October gross for these carriers totaled $489,000,000, a decline of 4.3 per cent from the $493,011,000 of a year ago. September gross was $459,214,000.

Stock Dividends in Sight.

Dividend news was cheerful. A proposal to increase the common stock from 40,000 to 100,000 shares will be voted on by stockholders of the American Equitable Assurance Company on Dec. 9. The directors have recommended a 10 per cent stock dividend and 40 per cent extra cash dividend. The Trico Products company placed its common stock on a $2.50 annual basis by declaring an initial quarterly payment of 62 cents.

Stockholders of the Zonite Products company will vote on Dec. 15 on splitting up the stock on a four-for-one basis. Extra dividends were announced as follows: Illinois Brick, 40 cents; Sterling Products, 1/2 cent; Associated Gas & Electric, 25 cents on class A stock; G. W. Helme & Co., 3/4 cent. On the other hand, the Long Bell Lumber company omitted the 1/4 quarterly dividend on the class A stock due at this time, and the Weisbach company omitted the 1/4 quarterly dividend on its preferred stock.

Annual dividend on its preferred stock.

ANALYSIS SHEET FOR THE INVESTMENT POLICY AND POSITION

A compact, workable form that will quickly disclose the structure of your investment holdings as to types, maturities, geographical distribution, interest dates, etc. Also contains outline for determining a sound investment policy adapted to individual needs.

Investors who have no policy to guide their selection of bonds are apt to accumulate holdings that are lacking in diversification and balance. The bonds may be sound enough, but not well chosen. Holdings should be analyzed from time to time to show the structure.

Many investors are hesitant about submitting their bond holdings to others for analysis. That is not necessary for determining how they are diversified as to type and locality—what the maturities are—how income is distributed over the year—how present market prices compare with prices paid, etc.

You can make this analysis yourself on a simple chart we have devised, based on the method we use for analyzing bond holdings for banks, institutions and large individual investors. This chart also contains an outline for defining the investment policy that would most effectively serve your particular needs.

Altogether, it is a necessary step in appraising every security on your list and in deciding what to buy next. We shall be glad to send you this chart, without obligation.

Friends Tell Her She's Too Pretty to Wed Homely Man

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Do look matter in the game of love?" asks Bettykin.

Explaining the query, she discloses the fact that she herself is considered unusually good looking, but the boy with whom she has been going about steadily with for a year, while the finest fellow she has ever known, is not handsome.

"It is just a case of friendship right now, but may soon develop into more," she confides. "I think a great deal of him, but people say I am too pretty for him. I cannot see that this should make such a difference, as he has a fine chance for advancement in his work and will some day be well fixed, so I know married life would be happy for me."

Any young woman who will allow "friends" to persuade her that she is too pretty for "the finest fellow she has ever known" is too pretty for him, and in all fairness to him she should not marry him. She is just too pretty for any man, if the truth must be known. And heaven help the poor goof who lets the pretty face lead him to the altar! His life will be the well known much advertised place of perpetual fire and brimstone.

Perhaps the delay in the proposal, Bettykin, may be that the man is seeing through your superficial little wit. A year of steady attendance upon a young woman usually brings forth some hint of the future. Never having been confronted with the problem myself, perhaps it is intensely difficult to be beautiful and not be fully aware of it, although I have known some girls who managed to live the grand curse down most becomingly. As a consequence, they are lovely.

Shorn of their own tremendous importance, they can see beauty in character. And that really, Bettykin, in marriage is far more important than beauty of face, be it of masculine or feminine gender.

I'm not one of those who think a good looking man a marriage impediment. The ranks of the benedictos are crowded with them, are they not? Every wife will contribute one of him in proof of my contention. Even though bald and slightly thick at the waistline, he's an Adonis if he's been a good husband. Tell the wife of one such that it is too bad she married a homely man and be prepared to run faster than you ever did before in your life.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

He's Discouraged.

"Dear Miss Blake: I went out with a fellow once. And he asked to take me out a few times after that, but I refused him, 'cause I was in love with another fellow, but he is dead now. And now it seems I love this fellow, for I see him and speak to him quite often but he never asks to take me out. I was told he loves me. What can I do to make him come back to me?"

He wouldn't have the courage to ask you again after several refusals, Roselene. He might accept, though, were you to ask him to come to see you.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Only One Quilt.

"I am 23 and at the present time I am left with the problem of caring for my two babies. I am trying to make a little home here in a three room basement flat and some one has given me a bed, but I have only one quilt to keep us warm. It is pretty cold at night, and if any one would send us a blanket I surely would appreciate it."

"Mrs. M. S."

These wintry nights are cold and sleeping without sufficient covering is neither comfortable nor healthy.

Approximately $300,000 in bonds of various issues also was included in the inventory. Miss Mitchell's estate also includes a number of real estate mortgages, loans and interests in several pieces of real estate.

EARLY DECISION ON SUBWAY BILL IS PREDICTED

Prospects for early agreement on the subway bill pending in the city council brightened yesterday following a conference held with Mayor Thompson at which the differences between the council and board of local improvements over control of the tubes' construction were said to have been ironed out.

Attending the conference were the mayor, Michael J. Faherty, president of the board; Chairman Joseph McDonough of the council transportation committee, Ald. Oscar Nelson (46th), and Ald. J. B. Bowler (25th).

The council, it was agreed, will name the streets in which the subway shall be dug, while Mr. Bowler will dictate the engineering plans. It was further agreed that a supplementary bill shall be drafted providing for twenty year payment of special assessments on the tubes, Mr. Thompson pointing out that the present five year plan would impose too great a burden upon property owners.

LUTHER V. RICE, ENGINEER, BURIED AT LADOGA, IND.

Luther Vinton Rice, well known civil and mining engineer, was buried yesterday at Ladoga, Ind., where he was born. Mr. Rice, builder of the Ferris wheel at the Chicago world's fair, died on Saturday at Glendale, Cal. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Rice was a graduate of Cornell university. Among the projects he built were the Merchants' bridge over the Mississippi river at St. Louis and the Central bridge over the Ohio river at Cincinnati. For twenty-five years he was chief engineer and director of Robert W. Hunt company, consulting engineers of Chicago.

He was a member of the Illinois Athletic and the Union League clubs.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Central Standard Time.)

W-G-N Listeners to Hear "Martha" Tonight

TOPPING the Thursday night bill from W-G-N, The Chicago Tribune station on the Drake hotel, will be the broadcast of the opera "Martha," by Plotow, direct from the Auditorium theater. W-G-N is one of a nation wide chain of radio stations carrying this beautiful music to the homes of radio listeners every where. The broadcast will be heard between 9 and 10 o'clock, and will include the portion of the opera which falls between these hours.

"Martha" is one of the most melodious of operas, telling a beautiful love story. Singing the leading roles tonight will be Edith Mason, Irene Pavlova, Ricardo Cortis, Virginia Luzzari, and Vittoria Trevisan. One of the most famous songs from this work which was first produced in 1847 is "The Rose of Summer," Martha's love song to Lionel.

Ferdie Grofe, foremost of the jazz composers and arrangers and known to Broadway as Paul Whiteman's chief arranger, will be the guest artist with the orchestra tonight during their program from W-G-N to be heard between 8 and 9 o'clock. Grofe's "Three Shades of Blue" will be the outstanding item in the program. Harry Reser, the chief bandleader, will also play "Turkish March" as a banjo solo. Other novelties include "Dancing Tambourine" by the entire orchestra, and "The Elephant and the Fly" as a cello and flute solo.

A twenty minute period of songs by Correll and Godden. W-G-N's popular

With its first broadcast this morning at 9 o'clock, W-G-N, The Chicago Tribune station on the Drake hotel, takes possession of the new frequency and wave length assigned it by the federal radio commission—720 kilocycles and 416.4 meters. WLIB, the Tribune's "Weekend" station, will share this wave length with W-G-N, also starting today. Listeners will now find the two stations at a position several points higher on the dial of their radio sets, and they should remember this when tuning in. The new frequency and wave length of W-G-N and WLIB are 720 kilocycles and 416.4 meters.

harmony kings, will be the outstanding feature of the late evening program from The Tribune station. The two songs will be heard between 10:30 and 11 o'clock, singing old and new numbers, including several which they have just recorded for the phonograph. A feature will be the singing of their popular opera burlesque, in which familiar opera music is set to burlesque lyrics.

Mac Sattley's half hour program between 9 and 9:30 o'clock will be the afternoon headline. Mac is bringing another crop of popular entertainers with him this afternoon, including Mary Fay, the Irish tenor, and Charlie Lenzen. Mac himself will be heard singing "In Old Manilla" to his own ukulele accompaniment. Elmer Haynes will also be featured in the program.

W-G-N QUIZ BOX

Here are the answers to three questions broadcast last night over W-G-N. The Tribune radio station. Three questions are asked and answered in the following morning's Tribune.

What do the letters R. S. V. P. mean? Answer—"Responders, all you please!"

Where are the Olympic games to be held next year? Answer—"In a huge stadium near Amsterdam, Holland."

What is a morganatic marriage? Answer—"It is a marriage between a man of the blood of a reigning royal family and a woman of lower social rank. The children are legitimate, though barred from inheriting their father's rank and property."

Hoodlums Will Be Feature Over WLIB

A late evening show by the Hoodlums with a host of jazz music and other special features will mark today's broadcast from WLIB, the Tribune Weekly station on the Drake hotel. There will be tuneful harmonizations by Carroll and Sorvillo, the "barber shop harmony boys," as well as rollicking dance selections by Bobby Meeker and his Drake hotel dance orchestra, and the Opera club orchestra under the direction of Spike Hamilton. Between 12 and 12:30 o'clock these two orchestras will be heard in solid thirty minutes of syncopation. Art Smith, the genial Gaelic chap, will announce the program.
